JAPAN WARNS RUSSIA NOT TO SEND TROOPS TO MANCHURIA

Points to Danger of Serious Complications—Declares
No Damage Was Done to Railway in Taking Tsitsihar.

NOTE TO SOVIET ON RESPONSIBILITY
Moscow Is 'Partially' Blamed for Hostilities
Now Reaching Into Its Sphere of Influence—Concern Felt There.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Nov. 19.—The Japanese government today instructed its ambassador at Moscow to convey to Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet minister for Foreign Affairs, a friendly warning regarding the danger of serious complications if Russia should send troops into North Manchuria.

The ambassador was charged at the same time to reassure the Soviet Foreign Commissioner that no damage was done to the Russian-owned Chinese Eastern Railway during yesterday's offensive in the Manchurian area. The capture of Tsitsihar yesterday carried the Japanese army into the Russian sphere of influence in Manchuria.

A Japanese charge that Russia is "partially responsible" for hostilities in Manchuria is on its way from Tokyo to Moscow. The charge is contained in a reply to an earlier note of Litvinoff, which complained that Japan was "manufacturing" rumors of Soviet interference in the conflict.

The Japanese note declares that the Russian-owned Chinese Eastern Railway assisted in transporting Chinese troops to Tsitsihar and Anhui from the east and west, and argues that the Soviet Government has a fresh statement declaring it is not furnishing arms or ammunition to the Chinese.

Denies Russian Charge.
Denying the Russian charge that Japanese officials "manufactured" rumors of Russian assistance to the Manchurian army, the Japanese note says Japan refused a request from the Chinese to use the South Manchurian Railway for transport and Japan hoped Russia would observe a similar neutral attitude in the present conflict.

The note emphasized that care is being taken to avoid harming Soviet interests in the Manchurian area. Japanese operations, it insists, are measures of self-preservation for the purpose of protecting Japanese rights and interests.

Russia Expects Japan to Make As-urances Good.
MOSCOW, Nov. 19.—The occupation of Tsitsihar in Manchuria by Japan is bound to cause concern to the Soviet Government, said a Russian dispatch today spread by China and Soviet Russia.
Official comment has not been made, but Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet minister for Foreign Affairs, replied to the Japanese note by a recent declaration to the Japanese ambassador, whom he warned that any attack on Tsitsihar might cause material damage to Russia's interests.

He reminded the ambassador that Japan had given assurance that Japanese interests would be protected in the Manchurian conflict, and added that the Soviet Government expected such assurances to be kept.

Japanese Troops Formally Occupy Tsitsihar.
TOKIO, Nov. 19.—The Japanese government today said the formal occupation of the city by General Kato's Japanese was begun at 10
a. m. today, following the Japanese army's entry under Gen. Ma Chuanshan was reported.

An official communique issued from Japanese headquarters this morning said communication with the city was constantly interrupted.

GERMANY SENDS REQUEST FOR WORLD BANK INQUIRY IN REPARATION PAYMENTS

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Germany's application for the appointment of a committee to inquire into her financial condition under the terms of the Young plan was mailed to Basel today.

It will be presented and published tomorrow and presumably will ask for a reconsideration of reparation payments.
Simultaneously, German diplomats abroad will divulge its contents to the interested Governments.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 19.—France and Germany came to a complete agreement today on calling the Advisory Committee provided under the Young plan to consider revision of the reparations schedule. Premier Laval announced this evening the preliminary conversations had ended. He intimated the Advisory Committee would be called together very soon.

$1,000,000 LEFT TO EMPLOYEES BY WILL OF R. T. CRANE JR.

Chicagoan Bequeaths Stock, of Which He Made Large Gifts to Workers in His Life.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Provisions of the will of Richard T. Crane Jr., made public today, show that about $500,000 of the estate of the Crane
Co. will benefit to the extent of about $1,000,000.

Employees who had worked for the manufacturing company of which Crane was head for more than 20 years at the time of his death, one share of common stock for each year up to 25 and two shares for each year of employment in excess of 25 years.

Another provision, however, declared: "If any employee has sold one of the lots of Crane Co. stock during his lifetime, he shall receive one-half of the number of shares of stock which he would otherwise have received."

During his lifetime Crane distributed millions of his private fortune in stocks among his employees. The shares are now quoted at between $17 and $18.

HIRAM JOHNSON SAYS HOOVER DOUGHT NOT TO RUN AGAIN

Senator Declares President Would Have Gratitude of Rank and File of Party.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—United States Senator Hiram Johnson told reporters today to "quit kidding" him about being a possible candidate for the presidential nomination, but he had one definite assertion to make regarding the coming campaign.

"The decision of Mr. Coolidge not to become a candidate next year entitles him to the highest praise of the American people. If Mr. Hoover were to make a like decision, he would have the undying gratitude of the rank and file of the Republican party."

PIGEON IS EXTORTIONIST'S AID
 Followed by Plane, It Goes Apparently to Wrong Loft.
 By the Associated Press.
 MONROVIA, Cal., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Isaac R. Colborn, wife of a wealthy retired merchant, received a carrier pigeon in a box and a letter by mail demanding that $10,000 be dispatched by the bird.
 Two officers detailed by Police Chief John Scott followed the pigeon by plane after it was released with a message announcing Mrs. Colborn could not meet the demand. In 10 minutes the pigeon alighted at the loft of W. A. Vogel, who told police he had sold the bird 10 days ago to a young foreigner. Vogel expressed the opinion the pigeon had not had time to become accustomed to its new loft, and so had returned to its former home.

ACCOUNTING SUIT BY BONDHOLDERS OF FOX THEATER

Receivers Also Asked to Take Action to Recover Profits in Alleged Scheme to Defraud.

PURPORTED PLAN GIVEN IN DETAIL

Petition Says William Fox and Associates Hope to Get Properties at Fraction of Value.

Suit for an accounting and for receivers to file suits against William Fox, his associates and their companies for profits made in an alleged scheme to defraud holders of bonds under a $4,550,000 mortgage on the Fox Theater properties at Grand and Washington boulevards was filed in Circuit Court today by seven of the bondholders against the Theater Realty Co., lessor, and the Fox St. Louis Corporation, operator of the properties.

The suit was filed on behalf of the bondholders by John S. Leahy who brought a similar action last month. The first suit, however, did not ask for an accounting and did not set forth in detail the alleged scheme to defraud. It resulted in the appointment of Edwin B. Meisner and A. L. Storr as temporary receivers.

Circuit Judge Roskopf received a telegram from the Clerk of the Supreme Court of Missouri today stating that the defendants had applied for a writ of prohibition to prevent the first case from going forward.

The present petition alleges that Fox and his associates devised a plan through which they could obtain the Fox properties at a fraction of their actual worth after the investing public had provided funds for the erection of the theater.

The plan, according to the petition, was substantially as follows: The Theater Realty Co. was formed in 1927 with a capital of $2000 and made the owner and lessee under a 99-year lease of the Fox properties. The realty company caused a bond issue of $4,550,000, secured by deed of trust on the properties, to be sold to the public through Halsey, Stuart & Co. The properties were leased to the Fox Theaters Corporation of New York which in turn leased them to the Fox St. Louis Corporation.

The latter company collected rents, forwarding them to representatives of the Fox interests in New York. Under the lease the Fox Theaters Corporation was to pay to the Theater Realty Co. an annual rental of $591,500. The revenue earned by the theater, office building (Humboldt Building) and stores was more than adequate to pay interest and sinking fund requirements on the bonds and eventually to retire them. As a result, however, excessive prices paid for equipment purchased from the General Theater Equipment Co., a Fox enterprise, and excessive rentals for films furnished by the Fox Film Corporation, the Fox Theaters Corporation was behind in rentals to the extent of $898,383 last month and bond interest was defaulted.

"Specious and Sonorous." This much of the plan was carried out, according to the suit. Its consummation, it is alleged, involves the purchase by Fox interests of bonds at depreciated values and their use at face value to buy in the properties under foreclosure sale.

The provision enabling the use of bonds at their face value in buying the properties is contained in the deed of trust, which the suit alleges contains 40,000 words, including "specious and sonorous pronouncements designed to lull bond purchasers into a sense of security and to conceal provisions intended substantially to destroy the security."

The deed, it is averred, also provides that sinking fund payments may be made in bonds at their face value in lieu of cash.

The suit asks that property of the Theater Realty Co. be conserved by the receivers and eventually sold for the benefit of bondholders.

The plaintiffs, holding bonds of a face value of $13,500, are Charles A. Mueller, John Pohl, Alice R. Hastings, James Hager, Matilda Dreschler, Mrs. Elsie D. May and Fred Cann. They invite other bondholders to join in the suit.

Man and Wife Kill Self.
 By the Associated Press.
 LIMA, O., Nov. 19.—The bodies of George Stevens, 60 years old, and his wife, Daisy, 58, said by officials to have ended their lives in a suicide pact, were found in a gas-filled room at their home yesterday. Neighbors and police found the couple sitting in chairs facing each other. Gas jets of a stove were open. A note, arranged for their burial, ascribed no reason for the suicides but officials expressed a belief they ended their lives because of the ill health of Stevens, a war veteran.

SCOTTISH WOMAN CROWNED AS QUEEN OF MALAY STATE

Widow Married in October to Sultan of Johore, One of Few Absolute Rulers.
 JOHORE BAHRU, Malay States, Nov. 19.—A Scottish woman came yesterday to rule over the Malay State of Johore with her Sultan husband whom she married last October in London. Oriental pomp marked the coronation that made the former Mrs. Helen Wilson, a widow, the Queen of one of the few absolute rulers in the world.

The Sultana was attired in a shell pink gown of Venetian lace cut to one of the latest European designs. She wore a corsage ablaze with diamonds and around her neck was a wide collar of jewels. Her earrings almost reached her shoulders.

Attended by ladies of the Malay nobility, she later accompanied her husband on a drive through the city under rows of decorative archways and between crowds of smiling, bowing natives.

FRANZ HEIRS TO GET $494,375 INCOME

Estate Earnings Since Death of Widow in 1930 to Be Distributed.

The heirs of the estates of Ehrhardt D. Franz and Sophie Franz, 10 individuals and family groups, will receive more than $49,000 each under an order of distribution of the estates' income, made yesterday by Federal Judge Farris.

The income, accumulating since the death of Mrs. Franz in April, 1930, is $494,375. It came mostly from dividends on the estates' holdings of stock in the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. Judge Farris' order was made after the trustees of the two estates, G. A. Buder and G. A. Franz, filed a stipulation in which all parties involved in litigation concerning the estates consented to the distribution.

Because of pending suits, the Burroughs Co. has thus far withheld payments of the dividends due on the stock, not being certain to whom payment should be made. The court's order will enable the payments to be made with security to the company.

The chief holdings of the two estates are 282,500 shares of Burroughs stock. This holding of stock developed from an investment in the company which was the predecessor of the Burroughs Co. The present market value of the Burroughs stock held by the estates is about $4,000,000, but other assets increase the total of the inheritance.

Motions for distribution of the principal of the estate are pending, together with applications for attorneys' and trustees' fees and allowances.

REPRODUCTION OF AN AD BY SACHS, NEW YORK. CLIPPED FROM FURNITURE INDEX, OCTOBER, 1931

THE TELEGRAM WAS SIGNED "MOTHER MOONEY."

Appeals From Mooney.

Previously the Mayor had declined personal appeals by Mooney and by Mooney's counsel, Frank P. Walsh. In his telegram to the Mayor several days ago Mooney, from his cell in San Quentin prison, said:

"Justice calls you across the continent. I have been in this cell 15 years, the victim of the worst act of injustice that has ever been done within the State of California."

"... Mayor Walker, if you will come out with my counsel and go before Gov. Rolph and plead for me personally with him, I believe I will be a free man before the end of this month."

Following Walker's declination of this appeal, Mooney made another plea, supplemented by appeals from his attorney and from his sister, Anna Mooney.

Walker said that he would appear before the California Governor as private citizen and lawyer, and not as the Mayor of New York. He will receive no fee and will pay his own expenses.

Mayor Walker will attend the Notre Dame-Southern California football game at South Bend, Ind., Saturday and will leave Chicago Saturday night for California.

EFFORT TO STEAL $240,000 IN GOLD AT SEWARD, ALASKA
 Postmaster Frightens Burglars Away: All Strangers in City to Be Questioned.
 By the Associated Press.
 SEWARD, Alaska, Nov. 19.—Burglars were frightened away Tuesday night after attempting to force an entrance to the Postoffice in which $240,000 worth of gold was stored. Charles Sheldon armed himself and awaited the entrance of men he heard working on the door. In moving about, he said, he upset a chair and the burglars fled.

The Deputy Marshal's office announced all persons entering the city henceforth will be compelled to give a satisfactory account of themselves.

MAYOR WALKER TO URGE RELEASE OF TOM MOONEY
 New York Executive to Appear Before California Governor in Behalf of Labor Leader.
 MOVED BY PLEA OF PRISONER'S MOTHER
 Letter From Her Follows Ineffective Appeal From Convict and From His Attorney, F. P. Walsh.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Mayor Walker of New York will plead before the Governor of California next Wednesday for the freedom of Tom Mooney, 15 years a prisoner in San Quentin.
 A telegram yesterday from Mooney's mother that brought news to Mayor Walker's eyes was the final plea that moved him to offer his services in behalf of the man who once was sentenced to death and who now is serving a life sentence.
 Mooney was convicted in connection with the preparation to day of the bombing in San Francisco July 15, 1916.
 The wire from Mrs. Mooney said: "Dear Mayor Walker: I am 80 years old. After an am-breaking down at last. They want to take me to a hospital tomorrow. In the name of God and His blessed mother won't you come out to help my boy? It is my last chance to put my arms around him before I meet my God. He has been a good son to me. If you do this for Tom, you will have my prayers as long as you live."
 The telegram was signed "Mother Mooney."
 Appeals From Mooney.
 Previously the Mayor had declined personal appeals by Mooney and by Mooney's counsel, Frank P. Walsh. In his telegram to the Mayor several days ago Mooney, from his cell in San Quentin prison, said: "Justice calls you across the continent. I have been in this cell 15 years, the victim of the worst act of injustice that has ever been done within the State of California."
 "... Mayor Walker, if you will come out with my counsel and go before Gov. Rolph and plead for me personally with him, I believe I will be a free man before the end of this month."
 Following Walker's declination of this appeal, Mooney made another plea, supplemented by appeals from his attorney and from his sister, Anna Mooney.
 Walker said that he would appear before the California Governor as private citizen and lawyer, and not as the Mayor of New York. He will receive no fee and will pay his own expenses.
 Mayor Walker will attend the Notre Dame-Southern California football game at South Bend, Ind., Saturday and will leave Chicago Saturday night for California.

CHECKS U. S. FILES FOR DODGERS OF STATE INCOME TAX

Auditor Thompson and Aids Receive Permission to Go Over Internal Revenue Records.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A small, confident young man from Missouri, who wants to be known, is spending full days in a large, lonesome file room of the Bureau of Internal Revenue Building.

He is checking Federal income tax returns by Missouri citizens against a list of 26,000 names he brought from Jefferson City.

It is slow work and will take weeks to complete, but L. D. Thompson, Missouri State Auditor, thinks it will result in the State collecting $300,000 in back income taxes by citizens who filed Federal returns, but failed to make a State return.

Thompson is taking advantage of a recently promulgated regulation of the Treasury permitting state officials to inspect Federal income tax returns to compare them with those made to the state.

The Missouri Legislature recently increased the auditor's force. Thompson intends to show that the increase was justified by calling in tax evaders and making them pay up.

He brought three of his assistants, two men and a woman, here with him. As soon as the work is well under way he will return to Jefferson City and his assistants will complete the task. The income tax in Missouri is assessed by county officials, Thompson said. He added that when his examination of the Federal list is completed, he will notify all persons who should have made state tax returns to meet his representative in the office of the county assessors.

Then the delinquent will hear the news that he will be expected to contribute the back taxes he evaded. Unless the delinquent accepts the situation and pays up, court action will follow. Under the Missouri law, Thompson said, delinquents who have never made a State tax return can be compelled to pay the taxes they evaded since 1919 and in the case of those who have made both State and Federal returns the returns can be checked for the last two years.

The major part of the Missouri tax, the auditor said, comes from St. Louis, which contributes 60 per cent. Ninety per cent is collected from the five large cities of the State—St. Louis, Kansas City, Joplin, St. Joseph and Springfield. The 1 per cent tax nets the State about $5,000,000 a year.

To prevent persons who make Federal returns from evading State taxes, the Legislature amended the State laws this year to require Missourians when making State income tax returns to attach a copy of their Federal return.

Only officials of states which have income tax laws are permitted to examine the Federal returns. They do so only in the discretion and at the pleasure of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

BURGULARS CUT SCREEN DOOR, STEAL RUGS AND CLOTHING

Property Valued at $380 Taken at 2308 Sulphur Avenue; Other, Theft.

A screen door at the home of George Siede, 2308 Sulphur avenue, was cut open by burglars who took rugs valued at $200 and $80 worth of clothing last night.

The home of Miss Myrtle Miller, 4293 San Francisco avenue, was entered by burglars last night and $200 worth of clothing and jewelry taken.

Three boxes of women's apparel worth $300 were stolen from an automobile owned by Henry Ebert, when he parked the machine in front of his home at 5795 Westminster place last night.

Miss Marie Odell, living at the Taylor Hotel, Taylor avenue and Suburban tracks, reported that she had been robbed of $4 by a man who offered her a ride home, and then drove with her to a nearby alley where he was joined by a companion with a revolver.

FIRE DEPARTMENT PROMOTIONS

Two Men Named Lieutenants; Appointments Also Announced.

Fire Chief Alt announced today the following promotions and appointments:

No. 13, to Lieutenant of Truck Co. No. 20; Milton Kempen, 2307 South Eleventh street; James E. Riehl, 2320 Texas avenue; John Kruck, 6559 Mitchell avenue, and Clarence W. Kopsch, 1221 Elliot street, probationary private in the Fire Department.

Gen. Pershing in Hospital.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Gen. John J. Pershing has entered Walter Reed Hospital to receive treatment for a slight cold. The 71-year-old commander-in-chief of the American forces in the World War is in no danger, hospital attaches said. It was thought advisable for him to enter the hospital on account of foggy weather now prevailing in Washington. Pershing went to Walter Reed last Tuesday, and will remain for a few days longer.

WETS CALL ON FESS TO RESIGN G. O. P. POST

Object to Party Chairman's Statement to Wadsworth Against Dry Repeal.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Three anti-prohibitionists in the House have called for Senator Fess to resign as chairman of the Republican National Committee because of his newly-expressed stand for the eighteenth amendment.

Representative Britten of Illinois led the attack on the Ohioan in a formal statement demanding that he get out as their party leader or "resign from the directorship of the Anti-Saloon League and refrain from being its spokesman."

Representatives LaGuardia of New York and Schafer of Wisconsin picked up the demand aroused by the Fess reply to James W. Wadsworth of New York, that "I shall use my influence to prevent the party from committing a fatal blunder in asking for repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

A movement is getting under way to have a new chairman installed at the December meeting of the committee. This contemplates installation of Postmaster-General Brown as chairman.

While Fess has agreed to serve until the June convention, he would willingly step out next month. However, the anti-prohibition attack seems to have forestalled any change at this time. Also, Brown objected to going into the chairmanship from the Cabinet.

Fess declined to comment on the attack upon him. It is indicated, however, he will not resign under fire.

The Fess statement to Wadsworth, former Republican Senator from New York, was in reply to an appeal by Wadsworth to the Republican party to adopt a platform calling for a constitutional convention on prohibition.

The Britten statement said: "If Senator Fess wishes obstinately and unreasonably to attach himself to the losing cause of prohibition in the State of Ohio, that is his business, but when he says that he will use his influential national chairmanship in the interest of a costly legislative failure which is kept on the statute books only by false propaganda of those who for years have been making a living out of prohibition, then he is deliberately destroying the very object for which he has been elected chairman."

"To oppose the wishes of millions of Americans who would give expression to their desires through the ballot box is arrogant and bigoted as well as a show of weakness."

La Guardia said "Senator Fess is the best asset that the Democratic party has." "If Senator Fess remains at the head of the Republican party with his provincial viewpoint and his stubborn fanaticism, the party will find itself in a hopeless minority."

Here is the way Schafer put it: "If Senator Fess wants to be the physician at the death of the leading pillar of the burial of the Republican party, he should continue his public demonstration of dry fanaticism as exemplified in the letter which he sent to Senator Wadsworth."

2.7 PCT. EMPLOYMENT DECLINE

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Employment reported to the Labor Department during October averaged 2.7 per cent less than in September, with a total of 4,694,617 workers on the payroll of 48,484 reporting establishments.

Only anthracite mining, bituminous coal mining and the retail trade groups showed increases.

"How do you like your new boy friend?"

"He bowled me over with every breath!"

Pepsodent Antiseptic checks bad breath 1 to 2 hours longer

To check bad breath you must kill germs... That's why, if you dilute your antiseptic, you should choose one that kills germs when mixed with water... Most antiseptics do not... Pepsodent Antiseptic does kill germs, positively, when diluted.

WHAT an achievement! Bad breath checked! Overcome 1 to 2 hours longer than by other leading antiseptics. Stop, garglers, and consider: those 2 extra hours can change an evening of uncertainty to one of comforting assurance.

3 out of 4 people have been fooling themselves when fighting bad breath. They were diluting antiseptics that couldn't kill germs when mixed with water. To check bad breath destroy the germs that cause it. Use an antiseptic that remains an antiseptic when diluted.

SAFE—yet more powerful

Here is the startling news in this new discovery. You can mix Pepsodent Antiseptic with 1 or 2 parts of water, to suit your taste, it still kills germs in less than 10 seconds. That's where most other leading mouth antiseptics fail. Yet in spite of all its power, Pepsodent Antiseptic is utterly safe when used full strength. What a weapon it is in fighting bad breath!

New security against bad breath

(Halitosis)

Pepsodent Antiseptic checks bad breath due to unhygienic mouth conditions 1 to 2 hours longer! Immediately after use, 95% of germs on mouth surfaces are destroyed. Two hours later the number of germs is still reduced by 80%. That is far longer acting than other leading mouth antiseptics. And remember—when you use Pepsodent Antiseptic to check bad breath, you are doing double duty by also fighting colds.

$3 worth for $1—regardless of size

To kill germs—most mouth antiseptics must be used full strength. So to mix them with water is a waste of money. Contrariwise, Pepsodent Antiseptic can be mixed with twice its own volume of water. Thus Pepsodent Antiseptic goes 3 times as far—saves you $2 for every $1 you spend. Pepsodent Antiseptic comes in 3 sizes: 3 ounces for 25 cents—7 ounces for 50 cents—16 ounces for $1. The larger the size, the more for your money.

Learn to rely on Pepsodent Antiseptic whenever a safe, effective germ-killing agent is required. It has scores of uses.

Again we say: Quit being good to germs. They've laughed at you long enough. Play safe. Buy an antiseptic that really kills germs when diluted. Remember you can fool yourself but you can't fool bad breath.

Some of the 50 different uses for this modern antiseptic

G. O. P. LEADER DISCUSSES TAXES WITH DEMOCRAT

Watson Tells Garner Senate Republicans Would Be Friendly to "Reasonable" Measure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, in a conference with Representative Garner today informed the Texas Democratic leader that the Republican majority in the Senate would be disposed to accept a "reasonable" tax measure framed by the House Democrats.

In expressing this opinion to the Texan, Watson took into consideration the fact that revenue legislation must originate in the House and that body probably will be controlled by the Democrats while the Republicans will have a scant majority in the Senate.

"Of course, I am taking nothing unseen," said Watson, "but I believe it to be to the best interest of the country to get the tax legislation enacted quickly. Nothing is worse than uncertainty when it affects business."

Favors Quick Action. "I believe the two parties will not be far apart in their tax views and rather than delay this question over a long period I think it to be the best interest to get the revenue measure enacted speedily."

Pending announcement of the administration's tax plan and the decision of the Democrats on a revenue bill, the leaders have not engaged in any specific discussion on tax rates.

Increases in the income taxes and in the inheritance levy have been suggested and some have advocated levying new excise taxes on a large number of commodities.

Representative Snell (Rep.) of New York said today he "wouldn't be surprised" if the present income tax exemptions had to be lowered. At the same time, he said, "we've got to get most of our revenue from the gift taxes, inheritance taxes and levies on the higher brackets, since that is where most of the money is."

He declined to say whether he would favor a general sales tax, but said limited levy of that kind "might get through."

Opposes Sales Tax. The sales tax was opposed by Representative Coulter (Dem.) of Mississippi, prospective chairman of the Ways and Means Committee if the Democrats organize the House.

"If we need more money," Coulter said, "we know where to get it. It will be in the higher income tax brackets." Coulter said he was opposed to any change in the present income tax exemptions. "It has been my hope a tax increase would not be necessary," the Mississippi an said, "if it is, however, it will not come from the little fellow."

He said a sales tax transferred the burden directly to the poor consumer.

Hawley Voices Protest. Meanwhile, Representative Hawley (Rep.), Oregon, said the Democrats were trying to force a tax increase on the Hoover administration and declared "many Republicans are falling for it."

"The scheme of the Democrats is very evident," said Hawley, who was chairman of the last House Ways and Means Committee.

"They want the Hoover administration to be responsible for a tax increase at this time. They see the upward trend of business and it is their desire, if they are successful in electing a President next year, to make a record for reducing taxes under a Democratic administration." Hawley opposes an increase.

"There is a distinctive upward trend of business," he said, "and I believe that a tax increase at this time may embarrass industry. I believe that we could finance the Government through the issuance of securities until industry has recovered sufficiently to permit the Treasury to retire enough bond issues when business is restored to a normal basis."

Hawley said, however, he had no objection to the imposition of a gift tax to prevent people from evading the estate tax, but added a sales tax generally resulted in deterring buying.

DARBY DAY AND McCUTCHAN CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

$200,000 of Automobile Underwriters' Insurance Co. Funds Involved in Allegation.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 19.—Complaints charging Darby A. Day of Chicago and J. B. McCutchan of St. Louis and Chicago with embezzlement of $200,000 from the Automobile Underwriters' Insurance Co. of Dallas were filed here yesterday.

O. Currin, receiver for the company, signed the complaints. They were filed by Assistant District Attorney Will Curtis in Justice John Baldwin's court.

Day is reported to be in California. McCutchan is at liberty on bond from Federal Court of Kansas City, where he had been indicted recently for using the mails to defraud.

4TH WOMAN BEATEN TO DEATH
Youth Held at Youngstown, O., Confesses One Assault.
By the Associated Press.
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 19.—Results of fingerprint tests were awaited today by detectives seeking to solve the death of Mrs. Willis Dickery, 67 years old, the fourth victim of a series of attacks here.

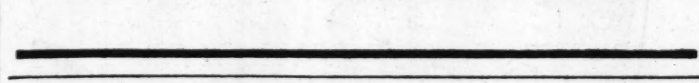

Merton Goodrich, 23, who according to police has confessed attacking a 12-year-old girl and has been identified as the assailant of another woman, was being questioned concerning Mrs. Dickery's death. Goodrich, held on a charge of assault with criminal intent, denied beating the aged woman. Mrs. Dickery died yesterday without regaining consciousness since she was attacked last Saturday. Goodrich, a former inmate of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, was arrested in Wheeling, W. Va., and returned here.

WILLIAM D. FARTHING DIES,
FORMER ILLINOIS LEGISLATOR
Ex-Postmaster at Odun Succumbs in Alton Hospital After Long Illness.
William D. Farthing, 84 years old, former Postmaster at Odun, Ill., died in a hospital at Alton yesterday afternoon, after a long illness. A Civil War veteran, he had been successively a member of the Illinois Legislature, State's Attorney of Marion County and Postmaster.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Sarah Farthing; three sons, Dr. Charles H. Farthing of Moberly, Mo.; Chester H. Farthing of St. Clair County, and Paul Farthing of East St. Louis; and four daughters, Mrs. Nell F. Jones and Mrs. Fred H. Henry of East St. Louis, Mrs. John M. Chamberlain of Mineral Springs, Tex., and Mrs. Louis Heely of St. Libory, Ill.

WILL SELL ST. ALBANS STORE -- FOR $40,000

Merchant Who Refused Offers of Mrs. Oscar Johnson Makes Two Proposals.

John Pfeiffer, general storekeeper at St. Albans, who for eight years has refused offers from Mrs. Oscar Johnson to buy his property to preserve the architectural harmony of her 7000-acre Tavern Rock development, is ready to sell out to anyone—for $40,000.

Or for $10,000, he will resign as Postmaster of Becker, the official name of the office there, take down his sign "St. Albans Inn," quit the restaurant business, tear down his shed and garage and move back his store building to permit a 40-foot roadway. His terms are embodied in a listing contract, giving a real estate company the exclusive right for one year to sell his property at those terms.

"While I've agreed to sell to anyone, I figure Mrs. Johnson may be interested in learning just how I stand," Pfeiffer said today at his weather-beaten store, contrasting with the Barn Inn and other buildings which constitute the nucleus of Mrs. Johnson's estate in Franklin County on the Missouri River, 40 miles west of St. Louis. Pfeiffer concedes that his terms, while open to all, would not be attractive to a commercial buyer.

The $10,000 proposition provides for an initial cash payment of $5000, the balance payable on completion of the alterations. The final payment may be applied as a credit on the purchase price of the entire property at any time during the life of Mr. and Mrs. Pfeiffer, the contract specifies.

"But we'd just as soon live our lives out right here," Pfeiffer said, "because I'm mighty fond of this spot. My children were raised here and it's a good, healthy place."

Pfeiffer has explained that the advance in the price of his store is due to "too much competition," which he attributes to Mrs. Johnson, culminating in the opening last summer of a colonial type country store just a few rods from his combined store and postoffice. He said his price was $40,000 prior to work on the model country store, but he fixed it then at $50,000.

"This new contract doesn't mean I've come down any," he explained, "because the $40,000 in there doesn't include my stock."

After the other store opened, he put a sign, "St. Albans Inn" on his store, only a short distance from the picturesque Barn Inn, and began to serve plate lunches.

ASSERTS OLIVANY FIRM

EARNED $25,000 FEE

Partner of Tammany Leader Testifies in Seabury Inquiry in New York.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—James F. Donnelly, a member of the law firm of Olivany, Eisner &amp; Donnelly, told the Hofstadter Legislative City Investigating Committee today that his firm made no attempt to conceal its appearances before the Board of Standards and Appeals while George W. Olivany of the firm was leader of Tammany.

Donnelly's testimony was sought after Samuel Seabury, counsel for the committee, brought out from Fred F. French, builder, a statement that large fees had been paid to the Olivany firm in cases for which there were no attorneys of record before the board of appeals.

The attorney said his firm made a practice of accepting only cash as payment from other attorneys because of the fear canceled checks would be used as a means of exploiting a connection with Olivany. Donnelly was first questioned about a case in which he represented French in connection with the building at 531 Fifth avenue. A fee of $25,000 in cash was paid by French to the Olivany firm through John N. Boyle, who was the attorney of record. Donnelly said he did not know whether any record was made in the books of the firm of the receipt of this cash payment and he admitted that part of the $25,000 was not deposited in the firm's account. He voluntarily asserted that the firm fully earned the $25,000 fee and he demanded an opportunity to tell what it did.

In the face of a defy from State Senator John J. McNaboe, Democrat, and a charge he was being "framed," the legislative committee yesterday passed a resolution censuring him and ordering his election from any public hearing at which he causes "further disorder."

The vote was along straight party lines, five Republicans approving the resolution and three Democrats voting against it. Senator McNaboe did not cast a vote. When his name was read he launched a vigorous attack on Samuel Seabury, committee counsel, and Assemblyman Abbot Low Moffat, Republican, who introduced the resolution yesterday.

He said the board's investigation of the municipal government had wasted half a million dollars of taxpayers' money and had accomplished nothing. He accused Seabury and Moffat of conspiring to "frame" him. Of the committee counsel, he said: "I salute him as one of the three or four outstanding failures in American public life."

Of the election clause, he said: "I dare you to attempt it. You did not give me membership on this committee."

SECRETARY HYDE OPENS LAND UTILIZATION CONFERENCE

"Vast Waste of Human and Material Resources in Our Rural Areas."

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde opened the land utilization conference today with an admonition that the "pathos and problems" in farm lands emphasized the immediate need for a long-time program. Called by Hyde and the Association of Land Grant colleges, the conference was a frank admission that too much land was under cultivation.

"There is both dynamite and enlightenment," the Secretary said. "In the fact that there were 84,000 fewer farms in 1920 than in 1925, but that there were 18,000,000 more acres in crops. The 184,000,000 acres was more than our cultivated area in 1909, and larger than the wartime peak of 1919."

The need for the conference, Hyde said, "lies in the vast waste of human and material resources now taking place in our rural areas." A start must be made some time, he said, and "no program which we can conceive will immediately cure the present emergency. But the present emergency emphasizes the need for a start."

Whatever recommendations were forthcoming from the land conference were expected to form the groundwork for state and national legislation to remedy over-production, farm abandonment and the maladjustment of crops.

LAST OF DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST R. C. A. DISMISSED

Tube Monopoly Action of De Forest Group Settled Out of Court.

By the Associated Press. WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 19.—Judge John P. Nields in the United States District Court yesterday signed orders dismissing damage suits against the Radio Corporation of America brought by the Poughkeepsie Gold Seal Electrical Co., the De Forest Radio Co. and the Gold Seal Electrical Co.

Dismissal of the action on stipulations signed by all parties concerned concludes a series of damage suits for about $35,000,000 against the Radio Corporation by these and some 12 other concerns alleging monopoly of the radio tube market.

Settlement of the suits was reached at a recent conference of the principals in New York.

$25,000 Cotton Gin Fire.

By the Associated Press. POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 19.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed one of two cotton gins at Neelyville, this county, owned by the Clay County Cotton Co. Tuesday night with a loss of $25,000. Fifty bales of cotton, 40,000 pounds of seed cotton and 25 tons of cottonseed were destroyed.

Here's Quick Way To Break Up
a Cold

Makes You Feel Like a New Person
Almost Before You Know It

THE thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job; not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Colds are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon that miserable, aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

Those results come because Hill's goes back to first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a new-fangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's costs only a few cents. Use it for quick relief after everything else you've tried has failed.

KILLED WHEN HE ATTEMPTS TO SHOOT WAY TO FREEDOM

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 19.—An attempt to shoot his way to freedom cost the life of Emanuel Puscher, 24 years old, fugitive from Erie, Pa., here last night.

Arrested in a pool room by Patrolmen William Schnellinger and Stanley Starzyk on a telegraphic warrant from Erie, Puscher was taken to the home of his uncle, Edward Grallman, on his plea that he be permitted to "kiss my wife goodby."

He took a pistol from beneath a pillow on the bed on which a girl later identified as Mrs. Margaret Snyder, 20 years old, was lying, and attempted to shoot Schnellinger. The policeman, wrested the pistol from him, but Puscher and the woman grappled with him and regained it. As Puscher again pointed the weapon at Schnellinger, Starzyk fired twice, both shots striking the fugitive in the chest. He fell dead.

Mrs. Snyder, police said, deserted her husband, Charles, in Erie to go into hiding with Puscher, who was wanted for assault and larceny. She is held for questioning. Puscher's sister, Ann, 23 and Leonard Ennis, 24, both of Erie.

Reprieve for Condemned Man.
AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 19.—Chief Red Wing, an Indian, sentenced to die in the electric chair at Huntsville today was reprieved yesterday by Gov. Sterling until Nov. 30. A temporary stay was granted the alleged slayer of Angelina Cavazos, 2-year-old Cuban girl, to permit Rangers to complete an investigation of a last-minute story told by the condemned man that another crushed the child's skull with a rock.

ALIBI WITNESS SEIZED ON PERJURY WARRANT

He and Man Convicted of Burglary, for Whom He Testified, Are Accused.

George Aldridge, a boxmaker, 808 Hickory street, who testified yesterday at Belleville as an alibi witness in a burglary trial, was arrested an hour after he left the witness stand on a warrant charging him with perjury.

Aldridge testified for Richard Bryant, 1802A Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, who was charged with breaking into a plumbing supply house in East St. Louis the night of Jan. 6, 1931, taking metal valued at $50. Aldridge said that at the time of the burglary, he and Bryant were on a hunting trip in Southwestern Missouri.

He related that he worked at the box manufacturing plant of Robert Gaylord, Inc., 2317 Southview street, until 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of Jan. 6, went to East St. Louis and got Bryant and they went with two other men on the hunting trip, remaining away from the city until the next evening.

As he left the stand and went out of the courtroom, Assistant State's Attorney Curt Lindauer got in communication with the box manufacturing company and checking its records, learned that Aldridge was employed there on Jan. 7 and was there the entire day at work when he said he had been on the hunting trip.

The facts were presented to Circuit Judge Henry G. Miller, who ordered a warrant sworn out. Aldridge was arrested on the Free Bridge by police who identified him by the license number of the car. He was taken to Belleville today and the time card records of the box company were taken to the court to be presented in evidence.

Aldridge was put on the stand again today and identified the time card which showed he had worked the entire day on Jan. 7. "You said that you were certain yesterday that you had been hunting on Jan. 7," Lindauer told him. "What do you say now?"

"I must have been mistaken," Aldridge replied. "It was probably on the Saturday before that that we went hunting," Lindauer said that the testimony today would not alter his intention to prosecute Aldridge.

Bryant was found guilty of the burglary charge today after further evidence was presented to the jury, and received an indeterminate sentence. Immediately after the conviction, a warrant charging perjury was issued against him and both he and Aldridge arraigned in the court of Justice of Peace Vangelin. Bond was fixed at $2,000 each and preliminary hearings set for Nov. 30.

PAINTER GETS A JOB IN TIME

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Hope was restored yesterday to Bert Wilder, portrait painter, and his wife, Louise, nationally known sculptor, with the sale of several small canvases and a commission for a portrait.

Wilder, his wife, who is deaf, and their daughter, Ellen Douglas, face eviction from their apartment in lower Fifth avenue. They owe $200 rent. A news item brought the plight of the well-known pair to public attention.

BANK COMMISSIONERS' VIEWS OF RESERVE ACT
 Majority in Poll Favor Liberalization of Rediscount Rules.

By the Associated Press.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Bank Commissioners in a majority of the states have informed Senator Vandenberg that they approve liberalization of the Federal Reserve act. This was the result made public today by the Michigan Senator of a poll made with the co-operation of Bank Commissioner Reichert of Michigan.
 The proposals submitted were: To admit to rediscount certain bonds and warrants of states, counties and cities, and other tax districts, and to create under proper safeguards a temporary emergency rediscount privilege covering any sound assets in a solvent bank.
 Bank Commissioners voted yes in 35 states while six approved with reservations. Four voted yes on part of the proposal and no on the other part. New Jersey, California and Minnesota rejected the plan and 19 states were noncommittal or did not reply.
 Vandenberg said the poll "unassailably reflects the opinion of the country that the credit base of the Federal Reserve system should be conservatively broadened."
 "Many dependable analysts have told me that the existence of the emergency clause alone would have saved much of the trouble through which we have passed. The National Credit Corporation has served to stop the stampede of needless fear which has done uncalculable damage to the country. If we now carry the same credit philosophy into the Federal Reserve itself it ought to stabilize a surge of confidence."

RADIO, PHONE RECEPTION IMPROVED BY NEW DEVICE
 Iron-Nickel Alloy Acquires and Loses Magnetism at Once, Tests Show.

By the Associated Press.
 CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 19.—A bar of iron-nickel alloy was made to do tricks here yesterday in a demonstration of its new uses in improving radio, cable and telephone reception.
 In the hands of T. H. Wickenden of the development research department of the International Nickel Co., it was held in the air and turned parallel with the earth's magnetic lines of force.
 Instantly the metal became magnetic, able to pick up large pieces of iron. Then Wickenden turned it through a right angle, perpendicular to the earth's lines of force. The pieces of iron dropped off. The alloy had lost its magnetism.
 Wickenden said this property, probably was due to a greater looseness of the atoms in the alloy as compared with those in other magnetic metals.
 Builders of radio transformers are taking advantage of this property by putting iron-nickel alloy in transformer cores, so the radio circuits will respond more easily to minute changes in sound and bring out more distinctly the finer shadings of music. Transoceanic cables are being wrapped with strips of the metal to keep out stray induction currents.

WILLS $1500 TO COVER LOSSES IN INVESTMENTS HE ADVISED
 Dr. George W. Koenig, Who Was Fatally Shot, Makes Bequests to Three Nieces.

The will of Dr. George W. Koenig, who died from a self-inflicted bullet wound, was filed in Probate Court yesterday. He bequeathed $100 each to three nieces—Alma Hollweg, Evangeline Harlos and Aratta P. Wernli—to cover any losses they may sustain by reason of investments which they have made on his recommendation.
 Another bequest of $500 was made to Mrs. Kate Berdel "in appreciation of her many kindnesses." The rest of the estate is to be divided in equal parts among the three nieces mentioned, six other nieces and eight nephews.
 Attorney C. William Koenig, a brother, and Harold R. Koenig, a nephew, were appointed executors. No estimate of the value of the estate was made. Dr. Koenig was found dead in his office, 740 South Fourth street, Nov. 7.

She was homesick.

RAIL CHIEFS CONFER WITH UNIONS ON WAGES

Cut of 10 Per Cent Has Been Suggested; Meeting Behind Closed Doors.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Railroad presidents representing all sections of the country are in joint conference here today with labor union leaders for the purpose of discussing informally matters pertaining to wages, working conditions and unemployment.

The meeting was held behind closed doors in the board of directors' room of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, in the Grand Central Terminal. It was pointed out that no official action could be taken on any of the subjects discussed.

Most important to the presidents, however, was the matter of an all-round cut of about 10 per cent in wages. It has been reported the labor men themselves would broach the question of some form of voluntary reduction but the union leaders, it was said, had decided at a preliminary meeting yesterday that any proposal concerning wages must come from the rail executives.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, is chairman of the executives' committee of nine which is meeting with the brotherhood chiefs headed by D. B. Robertson of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

After a private conference of labor leaders in advance of the general conference with the rail executives, Robertson issued a statement saying he felt sure that conferences would last "for the balance of the week, at least." He said the railway executives were expected to ask for a wage reduction, but he did not comment on the attitude of the unions on this matter.

He described today's conference as primarily to discuss unemployment. "We will discuss shorter working hours which will include a six-hour day," he said. "Pensions also will come up, and the matter of securing more employment for men in general."

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, he continued, the unions will present a united program to the railroad executives.

SHERBORN, Mass., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Jessie D. Hodder, 64 years old, one of America's leading authorities of correctional institutions, died today at the Women's Reformatory, where she had been superintendent for 29 years.

Mrs. Hodder was internationally known as a former vice president of the National Prison Congress of the United States. She was a native of Ohio and the widow of Alfred Hodder, author and journalist.

HOOVER BOARD REPORT ON SCHOOLS OPPOSED

Proposal to Cut Off Financing of Educational Courses Criticized.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The Association of Land Grant Colleges yesterday criticized the report made to President Hoover by his National Advisory Committee on Education. That report recommended, among other things, withdrawal of Federal participation in charting the course of State educational affairs and financing dollar for dollar with the State's various lines of vocational training.

The Executive Committee of the Land Grant Association reported that "agricultural education and research as now being carried forward in Land Grant colleges have a national aspect and significance which the National Advisory Committee on Education has steadily failed to appreciate."

The present advanced stage of education in agriculture, home economics and engineering, the Executive Committee said, was "almost entirely the result of Federal initiative and support which the National Advisory Committee would repeal."

The association's action followed the recommendation of its group named to co-operate with the President's Advisory Committee. The Co-operating Committee is composed of seven college and university presidents: G. W. Rightmire, Ohio State; R. D. Hetzel, Pennsylvania State; J. W. Kerr, Oregon State Agricultural; F. L. McVey, University of Kentucky; J. J. Tigert, University of Florida; F. D. Farrell, Kansas State Agricultural; and R. A. Pearson, University of Maryland.

TEMPERATURE IN ILLINOIS 17 DEGREES ABOVE AVERAGE

Meteorologist: Says Week Was State's Warmest for So Late in Year.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—Illinois has just experienced the warmest week of record for so late in the season, Clarence J. Root, meteorologist of the weather bureau, announced today.

"Temperature," he said, "averaged 17 degrees above normal. It was a showery week, with rainfall totals one to nearly four inches, except that there was little precipitation at Cairo. Corn husking was delayed."

DRY AGENTS MAKE 11 RAIDS ON HARRISBURG, ILL., HOMES

County and City Officers Help Federal Men Making 11 Arrests.

By the Associated Press.
HARRISBURG, Ill., Nov. 19.—Dry raids at 11 homes here last night netted eight liquor hauls and 11 arrests.

Six Federal and six county officers, led by Sheriff Gene Choleas, made the raids. The party divided to make five raids at the same time, arresting Mike Granzel, Frank and Anna Halzely, Mary Potts, Pete and Inez Reffett and George Stearns. Four lived on the same street in West Harrisburg.

City police led by Chief Dan... raided two places at the same time, those of William McClure and Ella Yotkevitch. County and Federal officers then raided the homes of Jackie James, Louis Wiedman, Minnie Vassalo and Tony Dronas. No liquor was found at Vassalo's, Wiedman's or James'. But Wiedman was arrested for possessing and selling, along with all, but Vassalo and James.

"The present scale of giving means failure. $3,000,000 must be raised. This is two campaigns, not one."

Sidney Maeshe

President, Community Fund of St. Louis and St. Louis County

"The combined drive has not produced sufficient combined gifts. A crisis confronts St. Louis. Increased giving is the only solution."

Wm. A. Smith

General Chairman, Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment

"If they raise $2,600,000 they will be doing mighty well."... This remark was made at board meetings, around luncheon tables, by men on the street, following the announcement in the newspapers Tuesday, that the combined campaign of the Community Fund and Citizens' Committee is in danger of failing.

Such talk comes as a distinct shock to every thinking person who knows how necessary it is to obtain the three million, if we are to take care of the thousands of men, women and children who will be in distress this winter. A DOLLAR SHORTAGE MEANS THAT SOMEONE WILL SUFFER!

St. Louis is making a smaller demand upon its citizens than any other metropolitan city in the United States, yet the response to this combined appeal is inadequate.

Are we going to stand by and cheer partial success, when failure to reach the goal means that children may starve, crime may increase, men and women who want work and can't get it, may sink into degradation?

A Restatement of Facts

It is apparent that a restatement of a few essential facts is necessary at this time. Here they are:

If the full $3,000,000 is not raised, the 51 Community Fund agencies will be called upon to carry their tremendous loads in an emergency year, with greatly reduced budgets. This will weaken, and perhaps break the foundation of the relief pyramid, upon which the emergency efforts of the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment is based.

The people of St. Louis must realize that the work of each organization is as important as the work of the other, and that neither can function successfully unless both are properly financed!

Why Are We Falling Short of the Goal?

—because too many people are giving the same amount this year they gave to the Community Fund alone last year. This is TWO campaigns, not one.

—because those who can give more this year, are barely matching the losses occasioned by those who are victims of the depression and cannot give anything.

—because men who can give $100 are giving $5 and $10... because men who can give $1,000 are giving $50 and $100... because men who can give $5,000 think they are doing their share when they give $500 and $1,000.

In other words, we are falling short of the goal because we in St. Louis do not yet understand that this is a year when unusual sacrifices... the kind of giving that makes us dig into capital, forego luxuries, curtail pleasures, even reduce some of our comforts... are necessary, if our own neighbors are to be protected against hunger and sickness and distress this winter!

How Can We Achieve Success?

The campaign, which was to have ended on November 19th, has been extended. The army of workers, which already has sacrificed ten days of intensive effort in solicitation, has agreed to carry on in a desperate attempt to reach the goal.

We will win... if those who represent the wealth of the community will come forward with gifts far beyond anything that has ever been given in St. Louis before.

We will win... if enough people say, "I did not realize the true emergency. I will increase my pledge."

We will win... if the spirit which enabled St. Louis to win Liberty Loan campaigns during the war; which caused our people to raise a million dollars overnight for tornado sufferers; which moves them to fill the Arena, pack Sportsman's Park, flock to our theatres whenever a charity benefit is scheduled... if that spirit is still alive, we will not stop until the goal line of $3,000,000 has been crossed.

"My business is in the red." Yes, but think of the eyes that will be red, from crying, if children are begging for food.

"My wages have been reduced." Yes, but think of the bodies that have been reduced, as strong men walk the streets by day, and worry themselves sick at night, because they have no wages at all.

"My income has stopped." Yes, but your estate, built upon the past prosperity of St. Louis, is still here, enjoying the protection and the privileges of the community which made it possible.

Before declining to increase substantially your contribution, consider whether you have materially reduced your scale of living. Our plight is desperate. Don't hold back. Come forward NOW!

JURY DISAGREES IN FRAUD TRIAL OF CHARLES V. BOB

Dismissed After 28 Hours; Broker and Associate Accused of $4,000,000 Swindle.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A Federal Court jury disagreed and was dismissed yesterday in the mail fraud trial of Charles V. Bob and Frederick C. Russell, arising from their stock selling operations. The Government announced it would move immediately for a new trial. The jury had deliberated 28 hours after a trial lasting more than six weeks. The defendants were accused of conspiracy and the use of mails to defraud in the sale of $4,000,000 worth of the securities of Metal & Mining shares. It was reported the panel had stood seven for conviction and four for acquittal on the final ballot. The jury was made up of only 11 men, one having become ill during the trial.

J. F. HOLLAND RESIGNS STATE INSURANCE POST

To Practice With Father—Reserves Statement on Attorney-Generalship.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 19.—Joseph F. Holland, Deputy Superintendent of Insurance, last night announced his resignation, effective Dec. 31, to enter the practice of law in St. Louis with his father, Matt J. Holland. He will be succeeded by A. C. Martin of Kahoka, chief fire insurance examiner of the department and formerly Deputy Finance Commissioner. As deputy superintendent, Holland had charge of the securities deposited by insurance companies for the protection of policy holders, the amount exceeding $80,000,000, and, in addition to cleaning out a large volume of undesirable securities which had accumulated in the course of years, enforced regulations under which no securities which did not meet the full technical requirements of the law were accepted. The recent indictment of Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis and Darby Day of Chicago in Federal Court in Kansas City resulted from Holland's discovery of an offering to the department of mortgages on Southeast Missouri land which were held by him to be for much more than the actual value of the land. In announcing his resignation, Holland referred to reports that he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Attorney General in 1932. He said he was not ready to say whether he would be a candidate. "That shall be a matter that time and my friends shall determine," he said. "However, I believe that the duties of an official of the State Insurance Department are such that no member of its staff should even consider a race for public office while a member of its personnel. "My withdrawal to private practice will enable me to resolve the question of my candidacy without doing violence to the high requirements that are expected of and incumbent upon one charged with the supervision of sacred trust funds. That duty should have the entire time of any decently sincere public officer, and it has always had my complete attention. The department has escaped criticism in the time I have had the privilege of serving in it. I wish for its members a continuance of a record, not merely free from criticism, but meriting definite public confidence." Martin has had an experience of more than 10 years in technical accounting positions in the State house, as bank examiner, Deputy Finance Commissioner and more recently as fire insurance examiner. Emmerson Makes Appointment. By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—Gov. Louis L. Emmerson yesterday appointed Reuben G. Soderstrom of Streator president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, to the Illinois Commission for the Study of Dependency in Old Age, succeeding Victor Glander, secretary of the federation, who has resigned.

TOO MUCH AGRICULTURAL LAND, SAYS FARM BOARD CHAIRMAN

James C. Stone Participates in Chicago Conference Called by Secretary Hyde.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Chairman James C. Stone of the Federal Farm Board expressed the opinion yesterday there was too much land in agricultural use. A participant in the land utilization conference called by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Stone said land-planning "must include provisions for reducing the total area of land in farms, or else for shifting some of it to less productive use, as from crops to pastures." Utilization of waste lands and conservation of soil was the keynote of the conference, with representatives from land grant colleges and universities, farm mortgage and insurance companies, conservation and forestry leaders and agriculturists attending. Stone said it would be an "almost impossible task" to develop a utilization program in the next 10 years. BANANA GROWERS GET RELIEF Mexico Pledges All Aid Possible to New Co-operative. By the Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—The Department of Agriculture and the Government will lend all its aid possible under the law to the new Co-operative Banana Growers' Association, Secretary Francisco S. Elias said today. He said support would be given the venture because the banana industry in Mexico was almost totally in the hands of foreign companies and competition was needed.

Put SPARKLE into your LIFE!

Rid your system of poisons... wake up to the joy of life!

HEALTH

Life's no fun when you're only half-awake. If you really want to feel fine, sweep away the poisons and wastes—and your clean, poison-free blood will go coursing through your veins and give you a new pep and brightness. Keep internally clean with Sal Hepatica; you'll get a new pleasure out of life.

BEAUTY

Dull skin—dull eyes come from poisons in your system. Bright eyes, a clear, fresh skin, come naturally when you are internally clean! You have sparkle, life, charm—you are no longer a person half-awake. Start Sal Hepatica now! Note: Sal Hepatica is a great help in the reducing diet.

Start in today with SAL HEPATICA!

If you don't "feel very well"—if you've been sitting on the side-lines while other people had all the fun—find out now about Sal Hepatica!

When your body is clogged with poisons and wastes you can't possibly get any joy out of life. To feel alive and fit, you have to be internally clean.

Instead of watching other people have all the health and sparkle, take the Saline Treatment with Sal Hepatica.

You'll get back your old zest! You'll feel better and you'll look better!

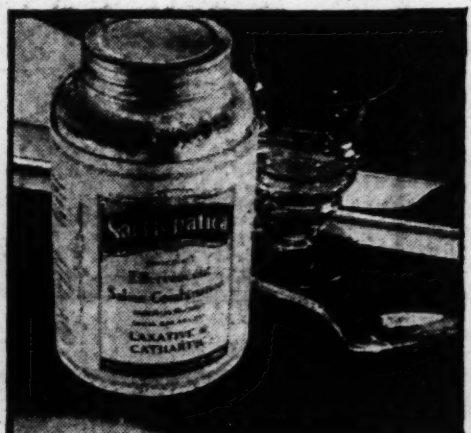

All you have to do is to get a bottle of Sal Hepatica from the drug store. Tomorrow morning when you get up, pour a teaspoon or so of the sparkling salts into a glass of fresh water—and drink down the bubbling mixture.

Sal Hepatica is not simply "another laxative." Sal Hepatica is a saline of carefully blended ingredients. It contains the same salines as wealthy Europeans drink in the health waters at the famous spas where their physicians send them to find new vitality, new health.

Sal Hepatica does far more than any ordinary laxative can possibly do. For it clears away the poisons from the bloodstream. It tones up the system. It gets at the causes of headache, rheumatism, digestive disorders, colds. It never has a tendency to make its users stout. It wakes up the body to a new sense of the joy of living! Get a bottle today.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SALTS IN THE REDUCING DIET!

Salines are valuable to women seeking to reduce. But, of course, correct diet is the first essential. See your doctor, get the right program for you. The best medical opinion here and abroad highly recommends a dependable saline like Sal Hepatica as an aid in the reducing diet.

CONSTIPATION

Whenever you wake up in the morning with any of the symptoms of constipation—take 2 teaspoonsful of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water. Promptly, gently the wastes that are clogging your system will be flushed away. You'll feel fine!

HEADACHE

To relieve the intestinal congestion which causes so many headaches, take a teaspoonful of Sal Hepatica in a large glassful of warm water and repeat this saline treatment in 15 minutes if not relieved. Sal Hepatica helps a lot.

COLDS

The very first step in clearing a cold is to flush out the system with 2 to 4 teaspoonsful of Sal Hepatica in a large glassful of water. Then continue the use of Sal Hepatica each morning before breakfast to keep your system free of congestion.

BAD COMPLEXION

To keep the bloodstream clear of those impurities that so often cause blemishes and skin eruptions, take 1 teaspoonful of Sal Hepatica in a large glass of water upon arising—for a week, or as long as you may find it necessary.

RHEUMATISM

As an eliminant in rheumatism, flush out the system with 2 to 4 teaspoonsful of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water. Keep free of poisons and acidity by taking 1 to 2 teaspoonsful in a glass of water before each meal and retiring. It's a real aid.

AGAINST MOSES AS PRO TEM HEAD OF THE SENATE

Four of Five Western G. O. P. Progressives Have Declared They Won't Vote for Him for Re-Election.

RETALIATION THREAT ADDS FUEL TO FIRE

New Hampshire Man's Attitude Only Strengthens Opponents, Among Them Norris and Borah.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Senator George H. Moses, who amused a New England audience here last year by describing Western Progressive Senators as "sons of the wild jackass," is learning to his dismay that the "rogue" of the "jackass" can kick. It appears that they will succeed next month in kicking him out of his position as president pro tem of the Senate. The Progressives, it is ascertained today, have definitely decided to oppose the New Hampshire wisecracker for re-election to the office. It is too early to determine how many will vote against him, but there will be at least four or five, which would be enough to insure his defeat. The present lineup in the Senate is 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite.

It is the duty of the president pro tem, to preside over the Senate during the absence of the Vice President. Due to the increase in the number and importance of Vice President Curtis' social engagements, this duty has expanded. In the event of a vacancy in the vice presidency, the president pro tem comes into the salary and perquisites of that office. Such a vacancy can occur through the death, resignation or removal of either the President or Vice President, and did occur when President Harding died.

The decision of the Western Republicans to oppose Moses for re-election did not arise from the "wild jackass" episode, although it probably did not appease them. Their opposition is based on a number of circumstances, some political and some parliamentary. They accuse him of a tendency to "railroad" or "steam roll" legislation, when the opportunity offers, and some of them feel strongly that his personal habits add nothing to the dignity of the Senate.

Moses, in addition, is chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, which expends large sums in senatorial campaigns. He has refused to assist in the re-election of Progressive Republicans, and there is a belief among them that he has actually worked against some of them. He aroused profound resentment during the last session by putting in the Congressional Record what purported to be the expense account of Senator Nye of North Dakota as chairman of the committee which investigated senatorial campaign expenditures in Illinois and other states. The expenses actually were paid by Nye in behalf of the entire committee and its employees, but, as inserted in the record by Moses, the account gave the impression that Nye had been wallowing in personal luxury at the expense of the Treasury. The document has been widely circulated in North Dakota by elements opposing Nye's re-election in 1932.

Moses Threatens Retaliation. Moses, upon learning recently that the Progressives were considering opposing him for President pro tem, threatened publicly that if such opposition developed, he would see that the Progressives lost their own committee chairmanships. The significance of this warning is shown by the fact that among the Progressives, Borah is chairman of Foreign Relations; Norris of Judiciary, Nye of Public Lands, La Follette of Manufactures, Blaine of Postoffices, Frasier of Indian Affairs, and Coughens of Interstate Commerce.

Moses' threat had an opposite effect from the one intended. It crystallized hostility, and placed the Progressives in a position where they would be accused of backing down unless they did vote against him. It is virtually certain that Norris, La Follette, Nye, Blaine, and Frasier will oppose him, and the number may be much larger.

As a matter of fact, there are sound reasons for believing that the Democrats have no desire to organize the Senate. Without a majority, and with a Republican President in the White House, they would be powerless to put through a legislative program, and they apprehend that a condition of responsibility without power to discharge it might react adversely on the party's political prospects for 1932. Consequently, it is altogether Picked Soviet troops marched past the tomb of Lenin, followed by thousands of men, women and children, in one of the largest demonstrations the Soviet republics have yet seen.

American and Russian People Learn More of Each Other as Fog of Censorship Is Lifted

Soviet Suppression Is Stupid and Bureaucratic but Not Vicious—Excellent Books Now Available.

By Raymond P. Brandt,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1931, by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., October. BOLSHEVIK newspapers waxed sarcastic this summer over a picture printed in the National Republic, an American monthly, showing a fleet of caterpillar trucks with the underline: "Russian Preparedness for American Pacifists—An Illustration Taken from a Periodical Published in Moscow." The picture had accompanied an interview with Charles Powell, an American engineer, who told about the deplorable conditions he found during a year's stay in the Soviet Union.

Unfortunately for the National Republic and Mr. Powell, the picture contained Russian type, which when translated read: "British Five-Year Plan—A Squadron of Tanks in the British Army." This incident illustrates the methods of Russian and anti-Russian propaganda. The Bolsheviks want the Russians to believe that they are in constant danger of attack from Great Britain, and the American conservatives try to alarm their countrymen by grotesque tales about the Russian military menace.

Censorship Fog Lifting. Such instances of misinformation, however, are becoming fewer, although U. S. Soviet leaders have lagged behind the outside world in the amount of information they permit to reach the Russian people, or, if censored or undistorted. So far as Russia itself is concerned, Bolshevik propaganda covers the country like a fog. Only within the last five or six years has that fog been penetrated by outside observers who knew their way around. Although the Soviet leaders are just beginning to let their own people know what is going on in the outside world, they have no objection now to foreign observers inspecting what they have accomplished during their 14 years of power. The writer has heard of only one case this year in which the Russians were reluctant to have an industrial plant visited. The doors were opened after the visitors went to higher authorities with their request.

Before the war, Russia was an unknown country. Russian novels reflected the dreamy idealism and mysticism of their writers rather than the true temper of the masses. The 1917 revolution and the civil war created an intense interest in this terra incognita. The political, social and economic experiments being tried out were the targets of special pleaders who were frightened at the rise to power, even under a dictatorship, of the workers and peasants. Church leaders particularly were alarmed at the new order. The propaganda about Russia distorted the facts as shamelessly as the alleged German atrocities.

Less Suspicious Now. The American public got their first real glimpse of Soviet Russia books about Russia, are now available. Maurice Hindus has contributed two graphic volumes, "Humanity Uprooted" and "Red Bread." William Henry Chamberlain, a resident in Russia for six or seven years, is the author of the comprehensive "Soviet Russia, a Living Record and a History." Bruce Hopper of Harvard and Oxford, who went to Russia for the Crane Foundation, has written in his "Pan-Sovietism" a short and clear account of the economic, political and social problems brought about by the Socialist experiment. For a Russian statement of the hopes of the new Government there is no better book than the short "New Russia Primer."

One often hears in the States that correspondents in Russia are prohibited from sending some of the news they gather. This is true only in a most limited sense. The Russian censorship is said by informed correspondents to be less drastic than that imposed by another dictator, Mussolini in Italy. The censorship in Russia, like all censorships, is stupid and bureaucratic, but it is not vicious. It applies only to telegraphic communications and not to mailed stories, although mailed communications have been known to be held up. Some writers have been barred from Russia, but the Soviet leaders have insisted that these writers or representatives of the mass publications have distorted facts or are personally obnoxious.

Correspondents in Moscow say that the censorship causes them little trouble so far as the news itself is concerned. Newspaper men object to censorship of any kind, whether it is on a President's good-will tour or in Soviet Russia or Italy. Even the most liberal censorship carries with it the implied power to poison news. And there is always the bother of taking copy to a censor's office which is open only at certain hours, and the time required to explain American intentions when editors are going to press.

Two instances may illustrate the Russian censorship. When Col. Hugh L. Cooper arrived in Moscow this summer he told correspondents that Stalin's famous June speech was "a step in the right direction." Now, it is forbidden for a correspondent to telegraph

GEORGE OTIS SMITH GIVES VIEWS ON WATER POWER

Chairman Says It Is Natural Monopoly, to Be Regulated by Federal-State Co-operation.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Water power is regarded by George Otis Smith as a natural monopoly which should be regulated and controlled by co-operation between Federal and State authorities. The chairman of the Power Commission, a storm center of many recent public utility controversies, has outlined his views on the power question in an article entitled "What I Think About Federal and State Regulation," published in the Public Utilities Fortnightly.

Regulation necessarily has displaced competition in electric public utilities, he said, partly to avoid wasteful duplication, but largely because large units and large systems permit higher efficiency. "How to regulate," he added, "is something to be worked out in practice rather than by theory."

Smith said publicity is the first step in regulation but warned that the back of it must be a solid foundation of facts or else regulatory functions "will jar and shake the whole structure."

AMERICAN LEGISLATORS STUDY LIQUOR SALES TAX IN CANADA

Delegation Led by Hearst Inquires in Ottawa About Various Levies.

By the Associated Press. OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 19.—Methods of taxing alcoholic beverages and other products occupied the attention yesterday of the party of American Senators and Congressmen studying sales tax systems in Canada.

The men, touring Canada as guests of William Randolph Hearst, expressed no opinions, but limited themselves to asking questions of Canadian authorities.

Figures on the amount of revenue derived from the sales tax on liquor will be made available for the party's study, said E. B. Rychnicki, Minister of National Revenue.

The party was told no tax was collected on power, the hydro-electric projects being operated on a public ownership plan. A sales tax is levied by Canada, however, on newspapers and newspaper advertising.

The Legislators learned a four per cent tax levied from the manufacturer on all goods in Canada with exemptions provided on certain foodstuffs and specified implements used in primary industries.

LLOYD GEORGE GOES TO CEYLON

Talks to Gandhi Before Sailing to Seek Health.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 19.—David Lloyd George, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Megan, left for the island of Ceylon today in an effort to restore his health. He plans to return about the middle of January.

Before his departure, he talked at length with Mahatma Gandhi regarding the Indian problem and Gandhi urged him to extend his trip to India so he could study the situation at close quarters. He agreed to do so if time permits. During his travel he will continue work on his war memoirs which will take a year to complete.

RAILROADS PETITION I. C. C. TO MODIFY REVENUE POOLING

Would Divide Income With Weaker Systems Through Loans Rather Than Gifts—Credit Corporation Suggested.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The railroads of the country today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to modify its surcharge-pooling plan for saving the credit of many carriers. At the same time they presented for approval a plan for a railroad credit corporation to provide machinery with which to operate the scheme.

Today's petition is another step in the effort of railroads to obtain added revenues. The commission on Oct. 20 denied a plea for a temporary blanket 15 per cent rate increase, and presented an alternative plan, unique and untried in America.

Approval was given surcharges of 15 and 16 a car on some types of freight and 1 to 2 cents per 100 pounds on others. Major farm crops were exempted. The money realized was to be pooled and needy railroads assisted in meeting interest on their bonds.

Dec. 1 was the deadline set for the roads to present machinery for handling the pool. The surcharges would be automatically removed in March 31, 1932, unless ordered off earlier.

Some Railroad Executives Object. Some railroad executives advanced serious objections to the commission's plan. They argued it amounted to more prosperous lines making large gifts to weaker roads. It also was urged that such gifts would be illegal.

The Association of Railway Executives turned the matter over to their advisory committee. That board conferred with a majority of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the plan presented today was then worked out.

To meet the most serious objections five amendments were proposed. These are:

That railroads should be granted loans instead of gifts.

That the commission remove its command that surcharges should remain unchanged but that any reductions made after the plan is in operation, come from basic rates.

That surcharges be applied to lighterage charges.

That the $3 and $6 per car surcharges be changed to cents per net ton.

That the commission revise its order barring surcharges on less than carload freight on hauls up to 175 miles and fixing 1 cent per 100 pounds between 175 and 250 miles so this section may be expressed on the basis of first-class rates.

Plan for Credit Corporation. The Railroad Credit Corporation, proposed to handle the fund, would be chartered in Delaware with a capital at the outset of $1200.

Administration of the fund would be in Washington and it would be operated by 12 directors. Five directors would be chosen from the Eastern district; three from the Western and two from the Southern and one to represent the short lines. The twelfth would be elected "at large" and would be the president and have charge of the organization.

An indication that the plan might be put into effect without all carriers entering was seen in its concluding paragraph, which says "this plan shall become effective only when those who have assented thereto all agree that a sufficient number have assented to make it practically operative."

All railroads already in bankruptcy or which derive less than 50 per cent of their revenues from hauling freight would be barred from receiving any money. They would, however, retain funds derived from the surcharges. Water carriers and such lines as might not be able to meet fixed charges even with a loan from the corporation also would be omitted.

"The report is susceptible of two interpretations," said the petition in asking amendments to the commission plan. "One is that the amounts arising out of the increase in the rates scheduled are * * * to be distributed to certain of the participating carriers as gratuities, and the other that such amounts may be treated as loans. In the plan presented they are treated as loans."

The petition then argues that gratuities are not necessary to accomplish the commission's purpose.

CANADIAN WAGE CUT HEARING

Railroad Official Says Reduction Would Save $5,000,000.

By the Associated Press. MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—The proposed wage reduction of 10 per cent on the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways would mean a saving of approximately $5,000,000 to the railways. Vice President George Hodge of the Canadian Pacific Railway informed the Board of Conciliation today.

Senator James Murdock, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said the employees of the Canadian roads were receiving lower wages than workmen employed in similar positions on United States lines. He said the men would not consider the "cost of living" as a determining factor in the adjustment of wages. They would demand, he said, that such adjustment be made on the basis of comparative schedules as between Canadian and United States railways.

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 19.—Salary reductions equivalent to two days pay each month, were announced today by the Erie Railroad for all employees who are on monthly and daily rates, and for "officers, officials and others in a supervisory capacity." Train crews and similar workers will not be affected. The salary cut will apply to about 1200 persons. It was made effective Nov. 15.

BRITAIN LIKELY TO START IMPORT DUTIES MONDAY

Swift Action Expected to Halt Inflow of Foreign Goods, Under Anti-Dumping Bill.

MEASURE IS HURRIED THROUGH COMMONS

President of Board of Trade Calls Particular Attention to Sewing Machines and Typewriters.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 19.—Great Britain is expected to begin next Monday to import duties on certain products under its new "anti-dumping" bill.

Such swift action to stop an inflow of foreign goods was thought to be certain after Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, had told a friend that he would be busy over the week-end. The bill, which permits a duty as high as 100 per cent, has been pushed through Parliament and is expected to receive royal assent tomorrow. Runciman's remark, therefore, was regarded as a sign that certain imports would be required to pay a duty as from next Monday morning.

The President of the Board of Trade, which will enforce the measure, indicated to the House of Commons last night which articles were likely first to be affected when he mentioned that the following were coming into the country in abnormal quantities: Plate and sheet glass, knives, surgical instruments, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, typewriters, colored cottons, carpets, box calf leather, tan leather and cobalt oxide.

Preference for Dominions. Runciman particularly called attention to the fact that 7577 sewing machines were imported by Great Britain during the past October as against 3492 in October last year and that 16,594 typewriters had come in as against 2848 a year ago.

The duties to be imposed, it was thought, would vary according to the view that is taken of the extent to which the normal importation is being exceeded.

But one thing seemed assured—the duties would form a preference tariff to build up a British economic unity comparable with the United States, in which there would be no tariff barriers between the dominions.

British Empire products are not dutiable under the bill, but a definition of what constitutes empire products may be necessary.

The bill refers, however, to the finance act, which stipulates that empire goods, to qualify for a fiscal preference, must contain a definite proportion of

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Rural Industrial Centers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

INDUSTRIAL workers should be encouraged to occupy available farm land as home sites, which would not only help stabilize labor conditions in centralized industrial districts, but help develop rural consumption of all industrial products.

The rural districts now the most practical for rural industry are those within a radius of 500 miles of our present centers of population. The area within 200 miles of the Mississippi River, aside from the industries therein, contains a great portion of our rural population and grain and cotton acreage. This area now offers to rural industry the same manufacturing advantages, such as transportation, plant power, natural resources, as well as the steel mill and lumber industries, that have made possible the present centralized industrial districts bordering our Great Lakes.

Rural industry has proved its practicability. For example, Missouri now leads in the nation's shoe industry with a large portion of its factories located in rural districts. The South is making rapid progress in the textile industry. To the worker with a family, most of all, a rural industrial policy would be of the greatest benefit. Occupying a home within easy motoring distance of his employment, on say five acres to 10 acres of this now available land, he would not compete in farm crop production. The benefits he and his family would receive from this land, in being able to produce the greater part of the family's actual living, would be for their greatest progress. In these rural districts the living conditions and environments for the raising of his family in many districts equal urban conditions. Now is the opportune time, if we are to have rural factories, for the worker in our changing industrial labor conditions to establish such means to help himself. These rural home sites he should be able to buy upon the same conditions and at practically the same cost as workers now acquire homes in our present city subdivisions.

River Front Parking Plan.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ST. LOUIS is now a large city, not a small trading post. Its citizens are of a progressive nature and are using to their advantage the automobile, the wider streets, the telephone, etc. But when they go to do business and try to park their cars, they find that the city, instead of inviting business, is driving it away. Parking space is a 1931 necessity. St. Louis should take advantage of its river front and provide parking space for the benefit of the city and the future progress of the city.

A Triumph for Kentucky Moralists.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IT seems that, since Mr. Dreiser has espoused the cause of the working man, his recognition has been set on brilliant prizes to grow misrepresentation. This change of attitude was very noticeable in the recent incident in Kentucky. Here is a state in which barbaric and almost inhuman conditions exist, and the outside world knows nothing about them because the press is controlled by men whose interests are the same as those of the mine owners. Is it any wonder that the whole machinery of censorship was set in motion when this well guarded wall of secrecy was penetrated by Dreiser and his committee? They could not bear to have the world know these facts, so Judges, Police Courts, local papers and business men all united in a holy chorus of "patriotic" righteousness by sending morality squads after this prober of mining conditions. It was only through this framework that they succeeded, with the help of the newspapers, in striking the blow at Dreiser's character and thus stamping him as a man of dubious integrity. The newspapers printed hundreds of lines flaming with this morality charge, but not a word on the unjust conditions in the coal fields.

The Kentucky moralists have conquered over a warm-hearted writer who dared to take the part of the modern industrial slave.

G. D. HAUSER.

Fears War Is Only Way Out.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ANY men of proved intellectual integrity have warned us that we are drifting toward a war. This is less difficult to believe when we look at Manchuria.

The problem of surplus production in the advanced stage of capitalism can be solved only by a destructive war. It is futile to say that the workers themselves should be permitted to consume the commodity surplus, because that implies a revolutionary change in the economic system. As things are now, war alone offers an outlet.

When the war opportunity comes, when the farmers are asked to raise war-time prices for their crops, when the laborers vision high wages, when the merchant and manufacturer glimpse profits—then we shall see all anti-war sentiment powerless against the supreme argument of economic distress.

FRANK MCKER.

THE ANTI-SYNDICALIST LAWS.

The rights reserved to the states under the Federal Constitution are very powerful. The Bill of Rights, for instance, is not obligatory upon the states, though many of the states have incorporated it in their own constitutions.

The anti-syndicalist laws in 19 of the states illustrate the extent to which what Congress is forbidden to do under the Federal Constitution the states are permitted to do. Congress could not make an anti-syndicalist law; that is, a law which held any disagreement with our form of government to be subversive, except in time of war. To do so would be to violate the constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press. Only the states can devise these suppressive instruments. The founders of the Republic laid down the indisputable postulate that a form of government which cannot withstand criticism is not worth maintaining. That is, since the ideal of a democracy is government with the consent of the governed, it is supposable that the government will always be what a majority of its citizens think it should be. In 150 years our own Republic has endeared itself not only to the people of the United States, but to people all over the world. It has been the greatest of all political examples, an aspiration of all human progress everywhere. Monarchical government dominated the world when the American Republic was instituted. It has diminished in the presence of what Lord Bryce called "the great American experiment" as a glacially melted by the sun. There are more democracies and fewer monarchies today than there have ever been in all history.

The anti-syndicalist laws of some of the states are a contradiction of this finest of all political truths. They deny the right of men to express any disagreement with the status quo. The status quo, as in the case of the coal fields of Kentucky, may be both inhuman and degrading. It may represent an economic feudalism as brutal as ever human slavery was. Yet an anti-syndicalist law can be invoked in the name of the Republic to suppress any outcry against such a condition. This is all the anti-syndicalist law of Kentucky is. It is a weapon of greed, a monstrous thing placed in the hands of men by a nation which granted them the precious boon of making their own communities what they would. No other anti-syndicalist law is any better than that of Kentucky. They are everywhere the same thing. Charged with being the safeguards of our American institutions, they are everywhere in denial of Americanism itself.

What Kentucky is trying to do had its historical prototype generations ago in the infamous prison ships of England. There are people who want a fair wage and a decent livelihood for the coal miners of Kentucky, their wives and children. That is what the whole agitation is about. When this same issue was raised in England, there was a fleet of prison ships which carried the advocates of decency off to the penal colony of Tasmania. Yet a day came in England when a Labor Government ruled the land. Had the Labor Government been equally brutal in its turn, it would have shipped Tories in floating fleets off to some dismal and far-away island. Such is the rationalization of the bitterest of all human conflicts. It will be so in the United States, but we must not be impatient of its coming. James Harvey Robinson has reminded us all that human progress is always painfully slow. They only destroy themselves who rush on in advance and rail at the failure of the mass to keep at their heels.

DRAMA IN THE RIVER COUNTIES.

In a time when athletic contests are about the only kind in which high school students seem interested, it should be encouraging to the followers of the arts to know of the Southeast Missouri folk drama tournament, to be held this winter by the Cape Girardeau State Teachers' College. The aim of the sponsors is the laudable one of impressing on high school students the possibilities afforded by local history and lore for dramatic settings and themes. The tendency is to forget that every section has its color and romance and needs only sympathetic interpreters such as Mark Twain, Bret Harte, Cooper and Hawthorne, O. Henry, Joel Chandler Harris, Charles Egbert Craddock and Alfred Henry Lewis to bring them out. "Old Creole Days," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "Arizona Nights" all came from localities which suggested no more to most of their residents than do Ste. Genevieve, New Madrid and Shannon counties. The high school playwriting and presentation contest deserves every encouragement. Who knows but that an important American dramatist may come from Southeast Missouri thereby?

THE GOVERNMENT AND EDUCATION.

The latest presidential commission to report is the National Advisory Committee on Education, organized in May, 1929, and charged by Secretary Wilbur, as Mr. Hoover's spokesman, to "give us the proper chart by which to steer our educational course." That chart has now been drafted by 51 well known citizens. To avoid the growth of centralization and Federal domination in school policies, the commission urges abandonment of Government appropriations to the states for forms of education, and of the practice of the states matching Federal grants. The gains from vocational training under Federal supervision have been great, but the commission finds it a fair question whether "these benefits compensate for the inevitable weakening of local responsibility." State governments, not Washington authorities, are the logical judges and administrators of educational programs, the report says. If Federal money is to go to the states, it should be for general educational purposes, not for special programs which may lead to undue emphasis and inequitable spending of local funds on projects of only specialized interest.

Charting a path away from centralization, the commission recommends a Federal Department of Education, with representation in the Cabinet. This department would have no financial or legal power, no regulatory or executive authority, but would confine its work to gathering statistics and facts, and coordinating the work of the educational bureaus now scattered among the 10 executive departments. An officer of high rank would have greater access to the President than bureau functionaries have, the report says. He would be "a spokesman for the American spirit and method in education, who may on all occasions express enlightened opinion upon educational matters."

A minority report, by two of the plan's 11 opponents, disagrees with this. It points out that a Federal department is by its very nature an administrative body, and even legal restrictions would not prevent its gradually assuming power as time went on. It fears this would lead to general control over the country's education, which the commission opposes in Part I of its report. Further, it doubts whether the country would always be fortunate enough to have a Secretary of Education who could "express enlightened opinion," as the majority hopes. Politics might enter in, and convert this department into a partisan source of propaganda favoring the "ins."

Some of these dangers are worthy of contemplation before the step creating such a department is taken. The record of bureaucracies is not so favorable that we may unhesitatingly authorize another, even for the important function of improving education. On the whole, we believe the minority report has the better of the argument.

CIRCUIT ATTORNEY MILLER'S GRAVE ERROR.

Circuit Attorney Miller is guilty of a grave error of judgment in agreeing to the release on bail of the men connected with the abduction of Alexander Berg. These men are charged with kidnapping for ransom, a crime punishable by death, and considerations of ordinary prudence would dictate keeping them in jail pending the trial. Paul Richards, the attorney involved in the case, was released last Saturday on $40,000 bond, and George Peak, reputed "finger man" of the gang, was let out yesterday after making bond in the same amount. Peak is a convicted murderer, on parole from a life sentence, of which he had served less than 10 years. Curtis Medlock, who rented the flat where Berg was held, and Charles Tucker, former juvenile delinquent, who acted as guard, are still in custody only because they have failed to make bond.

The Circuit Attorney explained last week, in discussing the amount of Richards' bond, that he feared the State's case would be disclosed if he asked that the attorney be held without bond. In that event, the accused kidnappers, he pointed out, could apply for a writ of habeas corpus and force the State to show why no bail should be granted. There may have been cases where evidence produced at a habeas corpus hearing might prejudice the State's chances at the later trial, but this is hardly one of them. Most of the evidence against the four men, as a matter of fact, is a matter of public knowledge. It has been printed in the newspapers. What possible harm would the State's case suffer by presenting to the court facts which are of record?

Of course, it is impossible to forecast a Judge's decision in a habeas corpus proceeding. But in a case of such serious moment to the community and involving men of such dangerous characters as Peak, it is unbelievable that any Judge would require the State to do more than show a fair presumption of guilt. The Circuit Attorney could have made this showing and, in all probability, the writ would have been denied. He chose to permit the matter to go by default and to let loose upon St. Louis a group of men who are in a desperate plight as the result of the charges against them. Even if the writ had been granted, Mr. Miller would not be in the position of responsibility he now bears, nor would he be subject to the criticism which he must face.

UNANIMOUS.

Mr. Morgan, back from Europe, has affably assured reporters, "I want to get down to work." Admirable sentiment, but in no wise exceptional. Indeed, Mr. Morgan is only one of six or seven million Americans who want to get down to work, and want it in a way that Mr. Morgan "never can know and never can understand."

DR. BUTLER'S PLATFORM.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler has told the Republicans how to win the election next year. He was addressing the National Republican Club in New York. He chose a fascinating subject—one in which Republicans everywhere are deeply, even prayerfully, concerned. It is to be feared, though, that the formula did not answer their hopes.

It is an elaborate formula, notwithstanding its succinct phrasing. Dr. Butler modestly called it a 14-point program, upon which the party could build its next national platform. In truth, it is a platform in itself. Not that it will receive a majority endorsement. Many Republicans will regard it as a counsel of perfection. Many others will characterize it in harsher language.

Mr. Mellon, for instance, will break out in a cold sweat as he scans the lines, possibly fainting dead away before he reaches the end. Mr. Hoover, as he peruses it, will be torn by conflicting emotions—may even find himself back amidst the political doubts and uncertainties that bedeviled him in 1926, when he did not quite know whether he was a Republican or a Democrat. National Chairman Fess will be tempted to jump into the Ohio River.

Looking across to the progressive wing, what will Senator Brookhart, Nemesis of the hip flask, say when asked to demand "the prompt and unconditional repeal of the eighteenth amendment?"

There is the sect that believes rapaciously in the gospel of Grundy. How will it be with them when invited to join in "reconstruction and reduction of the existing tariff schedules?"

Senator Moses will present the name of the distinguished president of Columbia University for membership in the Sons of the Wild Jackasses when his party is advised to continue "the support which has been recently given to the League of Nations and the Permanent Court of International Justice."

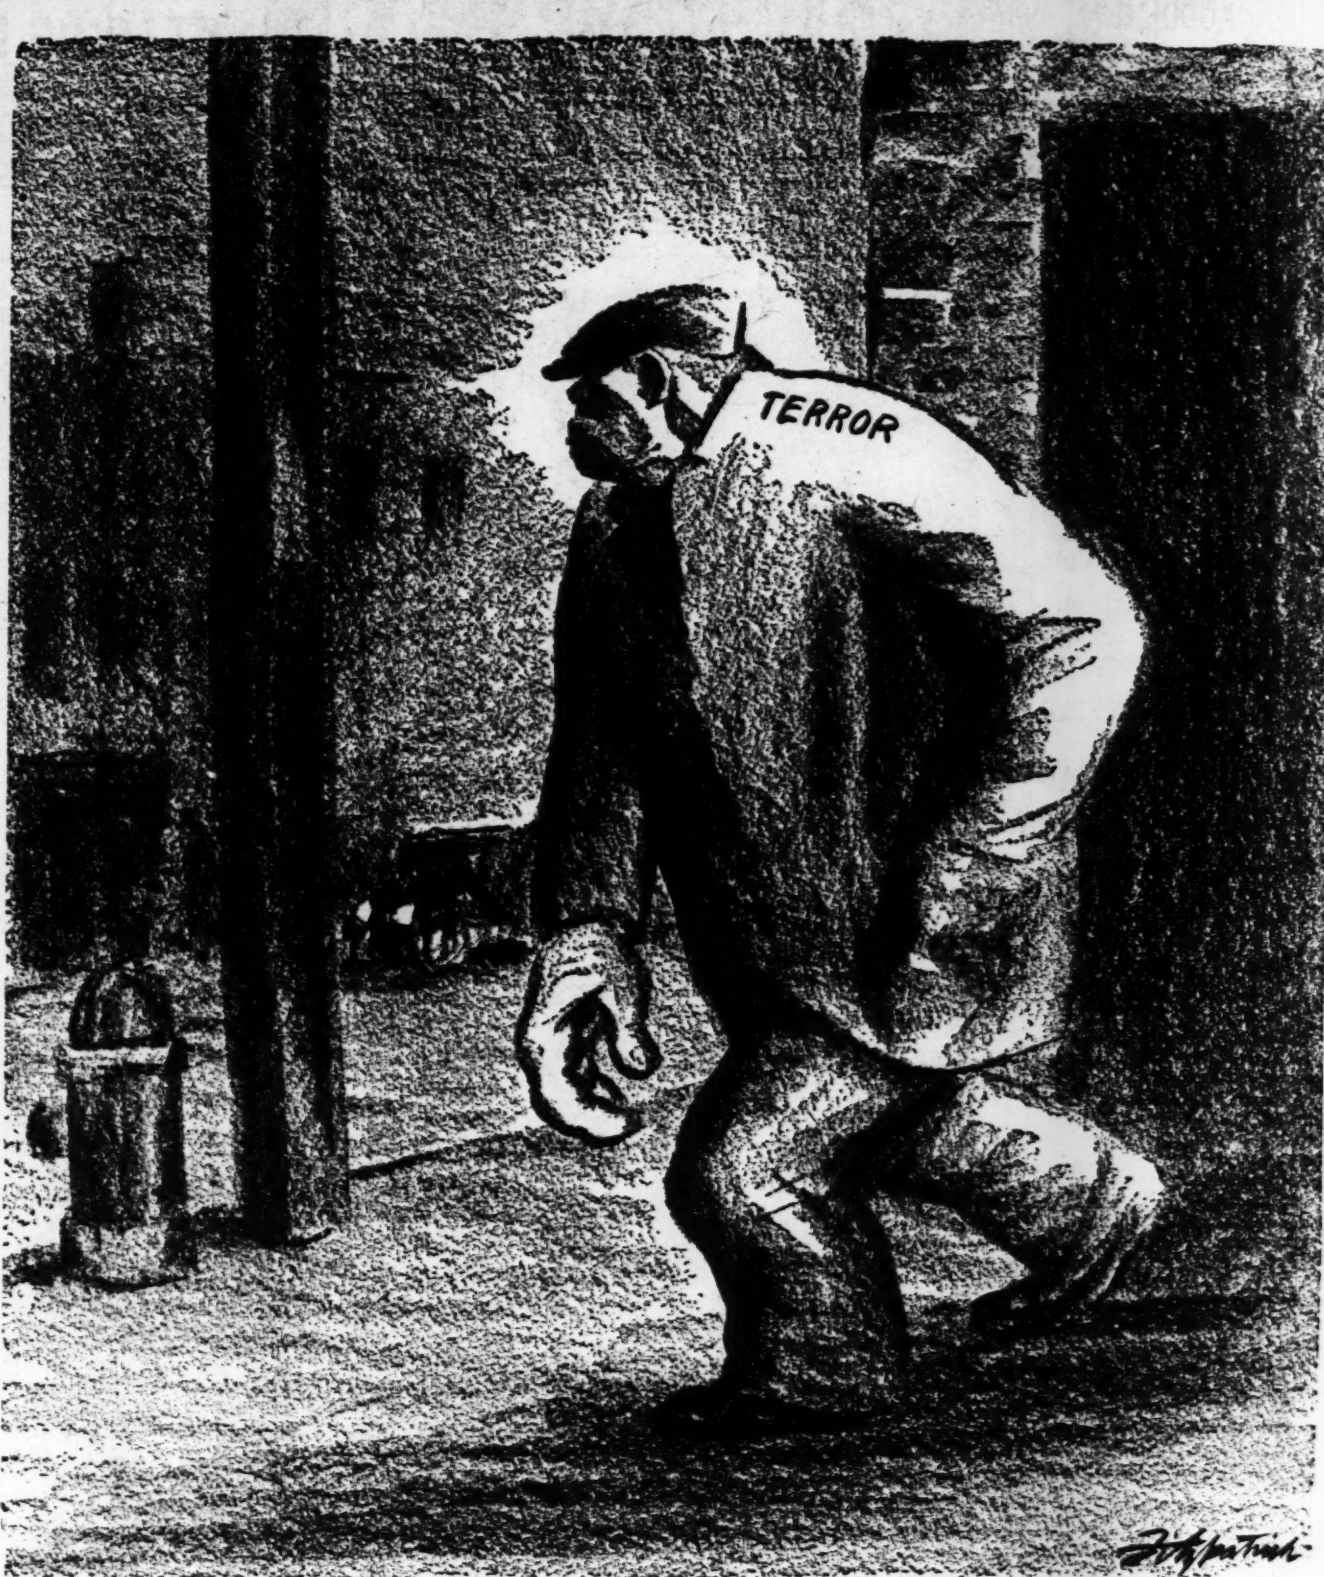

Prepare for a blast from the Navy League, Mr. Gardner speaking, when instructed to take "immediate steps to disarmament."

And wherever three or more Tories are gathered together there will be wagging of tongues at the proposal of a "speedy establishment within the states of a system of social insurance, primarily at the instance of industry, to safeguard men and women against such risks as unemployment, illness and old age."

The "development of publicly owned natural resources" will occasion gnashing of teeth. There are other items: Legislation to protect the railroads from unregulated competition of agencies utilizing publicly built roads. A studious effort to adjust industry to new conditions. An international conference to determine the desirability of remonetizing silver. Special consideration for farming. Curbing and simplification of the ravenous bureaucracy at Washington.

It is a live, forthright paper Dr. Butler has prepared, but he himself is possibly the only Republican in good standing who could run on such a platform. Has he started a boom for himself? Has he put himself in nomination for President before the Republican national convention?

The Republican national convention could do far worse than adopt this platform and name this candidate—and doubtless will.

OUT ON BAIL.

Charity Drives and Relief Reserves

Funds needed over U. S. this year for direct relief are estimated at $425,000,000; if this can be raised by current drives, each jobless worker will get $67, or 5.7 per cent of wage loss; tax averaging 23 per cent on incomes above $7000 would raise six times this sum; enactment of such a plan suggested to build up relief reserves.

By Robert S. Field, Graduate Research Student, University of Pennsylvania.

ACCORDING to the recent report of the Association of Community Chests and Councils, the minimum requirement for unemployment relief (i. e., "primarily relief needs over and above requirements for hospitals, other public health agencies and for character building and recreational facilities") in our 314 largest cities, having a population of 47,000,000, will for the coming year amount to $170,000,000. Data for the rest of the country are lacking, but the total may be roughly approximated at about $425,000,000.

Since the purpose of unemployment relief is to mitigate the suffering caused by wage losses due to unemployment, it will be instructive to compare the amount of proposed relief with the loss in wages.

Unlike other great industrial countries, the United States has no national or state agencies which can give up-to-date information on the numbers of the unemployed. For our purpose we shall fall back on an average of two estimates recently submitted to a Senate subcommittee, one by the Industrial Commissioner of New York and the other by a member of the President's Emergency Committee on Unemployment. The former, based on New York statistics, was 7,000,000 and applied to last spring. The latter was 6,536,000 and applied to August. For various reasons, one may be considered somewhat high and the other somewhat low. In view of the subsequent increase in unemployment, however, an average of the two, or 6,300,000, is probably a conservative figure. The corresponding annual wage loss, exclusive of the loss due to working part time, at $22.50 per week (average factory earnings in 33 industries) amounts to $7,370,000,000.

The proposed expenditure for unemployment relief is, therefore, $67 per unemployed person and is equivalent to 5.7 per cent of the loss in wages.

This amount of assistance will doubtless prevent starvation and freezing. But how can it possibly prevent widespread juvenile malnutrition and rickets, sickness due from worry and debt, and the loss of self-respect incident to dropping far down in the scale of living and having to seek aid from charity—as one in every seven Philadelphia families had to do last winter?

A rough estimate of incomes for the current year, if the 16,000 persons who compose the third of these groups get along on 77 per cent of their present incomes, or $94,200, on the average, the entire $425,000,000 of proposed unemployment relief could be raised without resorting to taxation.

600,000 of proposed unemployment relief could be raised without resorting to taxation. If the persons in the second group could manage on 77 per cent, or $11,800, the funds made available for relief would be $1,275,000,000, or three times the present contemplated expenditure. If all in the three groups were to live on 77 per cent of their present income, or $3100, relief funds could be provided in the sum of $2,400,000,000, or six times the present amount.

There is no basis for inferring from what has been said above that wealthy people are inordinately selfish. Most of them probably have little conception of the requirements for adequate relief. Many are guided in their benevolences by long-standing habits which they are reluctant to change. Some rebel at giving more when they hear of wealthier people who give less. It is not strange that few "give till it hurts."

Only by some broad plan of assessment, whether at income's source, business profits, or at its destination, can relief funds be raised with equity to those who pay them and insufficient volume to meet the needs of the unemployed. This cannot be done all at once. Reserves for unemployment must be accumulated over a period of years, just as are reserves for dividends or depreciation.

It has been computed that if a comprehensive unemployment reserve system had been set up in this country in 1925, with employers paying in 3 per cent of wages and employees 1 1/2 per cent, and with benefits of 30 per cent of wages, limited to 26 weeks in any one year, $3,000,000,000 would have been available for the unemployed during 1929 and 1931, with a balance of nearly $2,000,000,000 remaining in the fund at the end of the latter year.

The effectiveness of such a system of reserves is suggested by experience with reserves for industrial accidents in workmen's compensation insurance.

Unemployment reserves will not come without legislation, any more than payment for industrial injuries would have come without workmen's compensation laws. Although recent history shows an inevitable alternation of depression with prosperity, the Government survey indicates that by April, 1931, employers had on their own initiative set up reserves against unemployment for fewer than 200,000 employees.

In devising a system adapted to our own conditions, we would not need to copy the details of any European plan. If we distrust politics more than the English do, for example, we could center administrative responsibility almost exclusively in the hands of industry.

It would seem highly desirable at this time for those who are helping to raise relief funds to make the following plea: (1) Give more generously than ever before. (2) If it turns out that little more than 5 per cent of the wage loss can be offset by philanthropy, then help to secure appropriate unemployment reserve legislation which will make it possible in future for men who become unemployed through no fault of their own to maintain their families at the American standard of living.

Nebraska Is Not For Sale

From the Milwaukee Journal.

NEBRASKA has set a standard for other states and good citizens to follow by its refusal to deal with an alleged bank bandit who claimed to have $500,000 with which to buy his freedom. It is the most salutary example of good government since Federal Judge Wilkerson at Chicago refused to recognize a bargain that apparently had been struck by Hoover's Attorney-General with Al Capone.

"Gus" Winkler, the accused robber, said he had $500,000 in negotiable securities ready to turn over to Nebraska if the State would just forget about a charge that he participated in the Lincoln bank holdup where the paper was obtained. What is a charge against one man compared to such a fortune? It was argued in the cynical spirit that has caused crime to flourish. Pressure, plenty of it, was brought by bankers and even high officials to bring about acceptance of the offer.

But Lincoln apparently has in Max G. Towle a prosecutor of unusual mettle. Towle deals with organized crime. It is his decision that has caused crime to flourish. Pressure, plenty of it, was brought by bankers and even high officials to bring about acceptance of the offer.

This is the spirit which recognizes that there is not just a question of one man, or of a loss to one bank. It is a matter of using the machinery of the State as a go-between for organized robbery and its victim. To bargain with the suspect would be a recognition that the State countenances crime, compromises with it, is impotent to break it. That is just about what was involved in Chicago when the stage was set to have Capone receive a light sentence in return for a plea of guilty.

Much of our trouble with gangs and gangsters has been due to such dealing with crime. Bankers have fostered back stolen securities in negotiations with criminals. They thus established precedents for blackmail. And it has worked so well that an alleged robber, growing bolder, offered to buy out the justice of a State. But Nebraska is not for sale. That new precedent, we hope, will help to break up the practices all down the line.

TWO NEW AMERICANS.

From the Philadelphia Record.

MEET two new Americans: Bernt and Sorlie Balchen. Then pray for a little more common sense in the swivel chairs of Washington.

No two more desirable citizens ever knocked for admission. Their welcome consisted of hems and haws and a door slammed in their faces. Lieut. Balchen, handsome, blue-eyed, is an athlete, aviator and engineer. Sorlie, his wife, is his childhood sweetheart from Norway.

Back in 1926, Lieut. Balchen took out his first papers. Then he went to Antarctica with Admiral Byrd, shared with him the honor of man's first flight over the South Pole, planted the American flag there, named the land Little America. He returned after two years to discover an even "littler" America: official Washington. The red tape boys ruled that his two years' absence, even though under the American flag, even though on an American mission, made him ineligible for final papers.

A storm of protest finally brought him his papers. A new law may help prevent repetition of such a case. Only a change in official mentality will make it impossible

That powerful physique was credited with saving the life of Sir Andrew Fraser, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in 1909, when an assassin made an attempt on him and the Maharajah tucked under an arm and carried him to safety. He was made member of the Indian Order of Merit in recognition of the risk of his own life.

The Maharajah is also a Knight Commander of the Order of the Empire of India, and Knight Commander of the Star of India. He is a fellow of many learned societies. He supports Burdwan College, the University of Calcutta, and an Indian academy. He has been described as largest individual taxpayer of the British Empire, paying taxes of about $1,500,000 a year.

St. Louis reception committee met him at Union Station when he arrived, which he was due to arrive from Detroit at 12:15 p. m. He was divided into two sections and came in with a trainload of audience dealers half an hour before the committee. Reporters and photographers caught up with him at the hotel, where he had been informally.

Opportunity was given him to make points of interest before dining.

Assessment Between Hindu and Muslim Bar Independence He Asserts.

Independence for India, as sought by Mahatma Gandhi and his followers, is out of the question now, says Chand Mahtab, Maharajah of Burdwan and ranking prince of Bengal, declared at Hotel Jefferson today upon his arrival at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the hotel, under auspices of the Town Club.

"The idea is moonshine—rubbish—under present conditions," he said. "Economic conditions" is a rather asked.

"The present racial strife," he said, "the dissension between Hindus and Moslems, the opposing interests of the Indian princes, the oppressed classes, and so on."

Because of that viewpoint rather than in spite of it, he was inclined to believe that the outcome of the Round Table Conference at London, a disappointment to Gandhi, will retard the process of ending the Indian problem.

"Those who advocate a dominating status still have their position," he explained. "The outcome of the conference was a blow rather to those who will be satisfied with nothing less than absolute independence. The handwringing nobility will be quite satisfied with a dominating status."

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

AN out-of-town engagement of much interest in St. Louis was announced today by Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Rhodes, 110 East Sixty-seventh street, New York, and Sharon, Conn., who made known the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Nash Rhodes, to Stephen Clark Reynolds, son of Col. and Mrs. Stephen Clark Reynolds of St. Louis and Front Royal, Va.

Miss Rhodes attended the Brearley School and was graduated from the Ethel Walker School in Connecticut in 1927. She made her debut in New York the same year and is a member of the Junior League.

Col. and Mrs. Reynolds formerly made their home here and Mrs. Reynolds and her children lived here during the war while Col. Reynolds was in active service with the army. Mrs. Reynolds was before her marriage Miss Marjorie Oliver. She is a daughter of Mrs. Fielding W. Oliver and is a sister of Miss Judith Oliver and Guy W. Oliver, both of St. Louis. Col. Reynolds is the eldest son of the late Judge Matthew G. Reynolds, who was well-known here.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, class of 1925, and is now associated with J. Pierpont Morgan & Co.

The wedding date has not been announced.

Miss Ann Ferriss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Ferriss, 18 Lenox place, and reigning Velled Prophet Queen, and Miss Marjorie Raper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bond Capen, 1550 Westminister place, will be bridesmaids in the wedding of Miss Marjorie Oliver and Miss Jane Perry Francis, the Velled Prophet's consort last year.

The table for the debutantes and their escorts will be arranged on the enclosed porch, and will be decorated with large clusters of chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis will entertain eight of their friends at a smaller table.

The young women guests will include Miss Henriette Pirrung, Miss Eleanor Conant, Miss Jane Bond, Miss Helen D'Arcy, Miss Caro Holmes, Miss Eleanor Hobitzelle, Miss Amelia Oviatt, Miss Martha Love, Miss Katherine Boyd, Miss Louise Goddard and Miss Margaret Vieths, buds of a season or two ago.

Miss Helen Heissler, daughter of Mr. Alice Orthwein Heissler, 5074 Watson avenue, has as her guest Mrs. Charles Helle of Chicago, who arrived today. Mrs. Helle was Miss Maryanna Beckwith before her marriage.

She will be entertained at seven informal parties during the week, among them a luncheon Saturday by Miss Janet Orthwein, daughter of Mrs. Frederick C. Orthwein.

CHALLENGES THEORY OF DYING UNIVERSE

California Scientist Finds Mathematical Evidence Radiation May Create Matter.

By the Associated Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19.—New mathematics indicating that the universe may possibly go on living forever was presented to the National Academy of Sciences at Yale University yesterday.

One scientific idea for years has been that creation is bound some day to freeze up in a form of universal death, not only for earthly life but for all forms of energy.

The new mathematics was explained by Dr. Richard Chase Tolman of California Institute of Technology. He is one of the men with whom Einstein conferred on his visit to the United States a year ago.

The old "heat death" theory is based on the facts that matter is rapidly being converted into heat, light and other forms of radiation, and on the thermodynamic laws which tend to prevent reversal of the running process.

Tolman has created some mathematical models of creation in which this seemingly impossible reversal takes place.

Under the new theory, the light and heat, start converting themselves back into solid matter, the universe which now is running down can some day again renew its youth.

Other models that show possibilities of rebelling at an aging time are produced by applying the principles of relativity to thermodynamics.

Under the new thermodynamic principles thus announced, the old law of conservation of energy, which seems to require that the universe shall ultimately die works differently.

The result, said Tolman, is a picture of future conditions "which could lead to a terrifying reality than in classical thermodynamics."

Three meals a day is not sufficient for the young men who attend Yale—five is nearer the requirement. Thus Dr. Vandell Henderson of Yale commented on feeding experiments. Babies, he explained, need meals about every two hours.

George O. Squier of Washington said that equipment to carry radio programs over electric light wires to homes is ready for practical use after 10 years of research.

The known history of mammalian animals on the Pacific coast is pushed back 20,000,000 years by the Grandis found in Ventura County, California. Studies of these bones were reported by Dr. Chester Stock of the California Institute of Technology. Ventura County now includes mountains, but 20,000,000 years ago was a low plain, tropical, the home of titanosaurs, little land rhinoceros and big river rhinoceros and oreodonts, hog-like creatures.

Signora Grandi Pleased with U. S. And Wants Son to See It at Once

Declares in Washington Interview That Industrious Country Would Have Good Effect on His Character.

(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Signora Grandi, prettily turning the old adage, "When in Rome do as the Romans do," proved how quickly she had learned American customs by granting, on her third day here, a press interview. She did what is seldom done in such conversations—she gave some news.

"Next year my son will come to America," she said. "He will come and see it for I think that to look at this industrious country will have a good effect on his character."

Signora Grandi laughed as she explained that her trans-Atlantic telephone call to her son, Franco, 6 years old, and daughter, Simona, 4, had prompted this decision.

"Very clearly I heard his voice," she said, "and what do you think he said? 'Mother, this time you left us here, but next year we will come with you!' Whether or not I can come, I do not know, but he shall come on his vacation."

The Grandis previously had planned to add to Franco's education by sending him to America at the age of 12.

Correspondents from Rome had remarked about the difference between Italian and American customs on newspaper interviews from times of prominent men. They had said, too, it was hard for people of this country to grasp the homeviewpoint of an Italian mother and the depth of her devotion to her children.

"In New York I shall go shopping," she went on. "I shall buy much children's literature, and the toys I promised them by telephone. For my little girl, Simona, who has blond hair and blue eyes, I will buy dresses."

Answering the inevitable question about "impressions of America," Signora Grandi gave word pictures that later will interest a small boy and girl in Italy—Mrs. Hoover, "very charming, very interesting;" Woodley, Colonial home of the Stimson—"a quiet home in the middle of a great and silent grounds;" Washington—"Oh, I like your very pretty city which my friend Mrs. Stimson so kindly showed me—and I have yet to see those great buildings of New York!"

She spoke in Italian, through an interpreter.

In the intimate after-dinner hour at the White House, when the men go to the President's study for their cigars, and the women chat in groups in the Red Room, her talk was still of her children. It was a subject that transcended any difficulties she might be having with the English language. The distinguished guests went to her in groups, all eager for a few words.

Signora Grandi was described to this country to grasp the home-

viewpoint of an Italian mother and the depth of her devotion to her children.

Gen. William A. Kobbie, 91, Dies.
By the Associated Press.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 19.—Major-General William A. Kobbie, 91 years old, retired, died at his home yesterday following a long illness.

He was a veteran of the Civil and Spanish Wars and the Philippine insurrection. He held two citations for gallantry in action. He was born in New York in 1840.

In modern clothes" by Rudolph Kles, Hungarian artist, for whom she sat for a quick portrait.

Kles pronounced Signora Grandi "an absolutely perfect specimen of her very distinct type." Her beauty, he said, was the sort the old Italian masters loved to paint. Signora Grandi wore a simple morning frock of rich brown.

Signora Grandi's program today included luncheon at the home of Undersecretary of State and Mrs. Castle. She also accepted an invitation to tea with Mrs. Adams, wife of the Secretary of the Navy.

Wear silk
AFTER FOUR & FOR "FORMAL"

SLIP into a slipper for the evening! It rests you so . . . and makes you feel dressed-up even though you've only changed to another crepe frock. A black silk slipper will carry you anywhere smartly . . . neighborhood call or the latest supper club!

As for evening shoes, a pair with every gown is the Paris rule. That's why ours are classically plain and expertly cut. You can order them dyed and trimmed to suit your frock. Read these particulars:

Fabrics—Wide or narrow-rippled Moire, also Faille in the new dull finish.

Colors—Each model (with one exception) comes in both black and white. Our dye-work is expert, in either the new daytime tones or clear pastels.

Garniture—Individualize your slipper with a buckle or jeweled ornament, or harmony-bows—made from your own fabric.

Hostery—Sheerest evening stockings in the new "nothing" colors, only $1 a pair.

Athlete's Foot is No Joke

Look Out You Haven't Got It!

You can't be too careful when you go to the beach or swimming pool these days that you don't catch Athlete's Foot.

(Or that some other member of the family doesn't bring it home to you.)

It's nothing to laugh about. If it gets going good, it can put you pretty thoroughly out of business—as ten million luckless Americans can tell you.

The first sign of it—as you have probably heard by this time—comes between your toes. Look out for itching, burning, cracks, blisters and dead-white, moist patches of skin.

If you don't get right after the infection, it spreads to the soles of your feet and other parts of the body, and there your troubles begin.

Go after it with Moore's Emerald Oil. An 85c bottle will clean it up in a couple of weeks or money back. Your druggist sells it on that basis, as do all other first-class druggists in America.

Mothers... Watch Children's COLDS

COMMON head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous. Don't take a chance—at the first sniffle rub on Children's Musterole once every hour for five hours.

Children's Musterole is just good old Musterole, you have known so long, in milder form.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets at the cause because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain.

Keep full strength Musterole on hand, for adults and the milder—Children's Musterole for little tots. All Druggists.

that any Soviet policy has a "Right" or a "Left" tendency. The correspondents had to explain that "a step in the right direction" was a good American phrase and only indirectly could it have a political connotation. The censor accepted the explanation.

Our "Reds" in Russia.

A short time after when Lady Russell received a telegram from Prof. Dimitri Krynine of Yale, asking her to use her influence with Soviet officials to permit his wife to join him in the United States, the censor allowed three or four stories to go out over the wire and then without explanation refused to approve more Krynine dispatches. The correspondents argued that the story had no political significance—that they had found Mme. Krynine fairly comfortably housed, but the censor was politely obdurate. He apparently had received his orders.

A number of American tourists encountered in Russia wanted to have the vociferous "Reds" in America deported to Russia. This might be a good idea if the Russians would receive them. Well informed Russian acquaintances of the writer said, however, that when American radicals come to Russia they carefully guard their American citizenship rights. On the other hand, some of the American tourists admitted an ignorance about living conditions in the poorer American settlements, which compels tens of thousands of American workmen to apply for jobs in Russia. The writer thinks that such workers are making a mistake unless they are paid in dollars, but the fact remains that many do want to take a chance on Russia.

It may be that some American workers find they have bettered their condition by going to Russia. On a Volga boat a young Glasgow Communist painted a grim picture of conditions in Scotland. "I admire everything in Soviet Russia," he declared almost ecstatically. The writer observed that anyone who could overlook the inefficiency, the waste, the lack of sanitation and the absence of individual liberty in Russia must be enjoying a far-off vision that ignored present-day realities. The Scotchman insisted that he would be willing to live in Russia, which is a test of one's convictions. He was afraid that one of the Englishmen in his party intended to write a book about the Volga trip and criticize the Soviet system. He refused to admit that he himself could have a published presentation of his own observations.

Col. Cooper has said he believed that most of the world's troubles were caused by "unnecessary ignorance." This is true about Russia so far as the United States is concerned. We have the means of finding out what is going on in the Soviet Union and making our own decisions. The Russians are still unenlightened and misinformed by their leaders, but the writer believes that as the country progresses the people will demand—and get—a fuller and truer picture of the rest of the world. The Russian trend in their fields during the past five of six years points that way.

probably that Moses may find himself unable to carry out his threat. There are a number of Progressive Democrats, such as Wheeler of Montana and Cogan of Colorado, who would not hesitate to vote to retain the Republican-Progressives in their chairmanships, and it would be a simple matter for others to absent themselves on the roll call.

Pittman of Nevada probably will be the Democratic nominee for president pro tem. But it is not the plan of the Progressives to vote for him. They purpose to vote for another Republican, such as McNary of Oregon or Jones of Washington, thus deadlocking the election until the regular Republicans are compelled to abandon Moses for some Republican whom the Progressives will support. The latter do not especially care who it is. They merely insist that Moses must go.

It is possible that as the session approaches, a Progressive spokesman—probably Senator Norris—will serve open notice on the regular leaders that the party must put up another candidate. Moses undoubtedly will insist on making a fight.

empire labor and materials as laid down by the Board of Trade regulations.

Farm Products Excluded. The purpose of this is to prevent an export of the United States, for instance, from shipping parts to Canada, assembling them there and then transporting the finished product to Great Britain under the empire preference.

Debate showed differences of opinion over the application of the power to be conferred on the Board of Trade. Conservatives pressed the view the bill should be regarded as the beginning of a protective tariff system. On the other hand, former free trade Liberals, now supporting the Government, were more hesitant. "One said he supported the bill on the principle the Government should have the power to deal with an emergency. In the lobbies of Parliament a suggestion was made that a duty also should be imposed on imported flour and the proceeds used to guarantee a price for wheat to the British farmer. Agricultural products are excluded from the present bill.

ASSAULT METHOD OF UNION ELECTRIC IN DEPOSITIONS

Missouri Bag Co. Alleges It Refuses to Supply Heat Except to Those Who Buy Power From It.

Depositions were taken yesterday in a complaint by the Missouri Bag Co., 1206 South Main street, that Union Electric Light & Power Co. was discriminating unjustly in refusing to sell steam heating service to customers not buying its electric service. The complaint has been filed with the State Public Service Commission.

This rule figures in the dispute between Union Electric and its only competitor here, Laclede Power & Light Co., over the proposal of Union Electric to acquire one-fourth of the stock of Laclede Power and eventually to buy it outright. Laclede Power is opposing the purchase of stock and also a new regulation, filed with the commission Sept. 1 by Union Electric, expressing the rule about steam sales specifically. This has been the Union Electric policy for years, but heretofore not part of its formal rate schedule. The commission has suspended the new schedule containing it and will hold a hearing on the subject Nov. 30.

City is Intervenor.

The depositions in behalf of the Missouri Bag Co. were taken by J. L. London, its attorney, and the witnesses were questioned also by Bennett C. Clark, counsel for Laclede Power; Associate City Counselor Ferris—the city is an intervenor—and Theodore R. Baskett, counsel for Union Electric. R. M. Boyle, a consulting engineer for the city, was present.

Steam for heating purposes is supplied in a large downtown area by Union Electric chiefly from an excess production at its Ashley street electric plant and from an occasionally operated steam plant at 904 St. Charles street. The Missouri Bag Co. bought steam from December, 1929, until last June 1, and until last spring bought electricity from the same company. For about six months, until recently, the bag company got its steam from Laclede Power, at a rate which London said was 20 per cent cheaper than that of Union Electric, meaning a saving of about $300 a year to the bag company. Lately the bag company signed contracts for both steam and electric service with Union Electric. R. M. Boyle, a consulting engineer for the city, was present.

C. E. Michel, sales manager of Union Electric, testified that the dispute arose when Sam E. Grodsky, secretary-treasurer of the company, wanted to deduct "arbitrarily" a little more than $1 from his residence lighting bill in St. Louis County.

"We told him we couldn't discriminate that way," Michel went on. "He said, 'Very well, I'm going to give the company's electric business to Laclede.' Our representative explained to him that we didn't sell steam service to customers not buying electricity." He said, "All right, I think I could force you to, but I'm going to put in my own steam plant."

"We finished the heating season for him, however, about two or three months, and when we called to disconnect it in June he wouldn't let us disconnect and take equipment belonging to us from his building. We didn't want a fuss, so we just turned off the valve in the street, as should be done at that season. Later, he approached us about a reconnection. We reiterated our policy and Grodsky signed steam and electric contracts. The primary reason Grodsky had had for changing electric service was to get even with our company."

Reason for Filing Schedule.

Michel said Union Electric had not had to refuse to sell steam to any other customer, although A. G. Spalding & Bros. Athletic Goods Co. and the International Shoe Co. had been convinced of the desirability of taking both services. The new steam schedule was filed with the commission, he declared, because of the Missouri Bag Co. case.

"Our steam heating business," Michel explained, "exists primarily because of the electric utility. We find, in large, concentrated areas building owners preferred to buy steam at equitable rates instead of operating separate plants. The cost of steam service from a jointly operated utility like ours is inevitably lower than if operated separately. The steam service has the advantage of the management and money in the general business. Our steam rates are lower than they possibly could be from an isolated steam plant. By letting electric competition in, we reduce our kilowatt hour sales and the number of customers, which are two important factors in our rate base."

Attorney Clark tried to draw an analogy, based on the possibility that Laclede Gas Light Co. a subsidiary to Laclede Power, might refuse to sell gas to customers not buying current from Laclede Power. Michel was unable to agree to this. He said the Laclede utilities had taken two steam customers from Union Electric—the Missouri Hotel and Loderman buildings, which are supplied from the Laclude Gas building. Answering Attorney Ferris, Michel said the Union Electric steam capacity, only about half of which has been used, was inadequate to meet the potential demands of its electric customers.

Union Electric's Attitude.

J. E. Hillemeyer, manager of the Union Electric steam heating department, testified that at first, this autumn, the company had refused steam service to the bag company. For the reason, he referred to a letter he wrote Grodsky on Sept. 17, as follows: "We have not supplied other than our electric service customers with our steam service at any time, and we do not expect to start to do it until the highest courts in the land require us to assist our competitors, which is virtually what this amounts to."

Ferris showed by the witnesses that Union Electric regards the steam business as a public utility, operated without a franchise, under Board of Public Service permits.

SHOOT GIRL AND KILLS SELF

Rejected Suitor Found Another Calling on Her.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — Tillie Schwartz, only 17, had rejected Walter Lippow's offer of marriage. Lippow, 28 years old, went to the Schwartz home last night. In the parlor with Tillie was Louis Pettoff. "Get out of here," shouted Lippow, flourishing a pistol, "or I will kill her."

Pettoff got out. There was the sound of several shots. The family rushed in. The girl lay on the floor, seriously wounded by two bullets that entered her breast. Lippow, the weapon near his hand, was dead.

THREE REALTY ORGANIZATIONS PLACED IN RECEIVERSHIP

Better Built Home &amp; Mortgage Co. and Two of Its Subsidiaries Are Affected.

The Better Built Home & Mortgage Co., 308 North Sixth street, and its allied corporations, the North Pointe Subdivision Co. and Resource Realty Co., were placed in receivership today by Circuit Judge Hartmann, on petition of several purchasers of lots in subdivisions promoted by the concerns. The petitioners complained that certain blanket liens had not been removed.

The companies consented to the receivership, admitted that the Government had a tax lien against its subdivisions based on Federal income taxes. Charles W. DeLaney is president and principal owner of the corporations. He and Adele E. Mueller, vice president, and Esther Vassler, secretary, were included as co-defendants.

Judge Hartmann appointed Arthur F. C. Blase and John L. Porter, attorneys, as joint receivers. Alfred L. Grattendick and Courtney S. Goodman were appointed counsel for the receivers.

The defendant corporations own subdivisions in the city and St. Louis County known as Larimore Hills, North Pointe and Hill of the Gateway. They also own an unimproved tract of 200 acres on Halle Perry road in the county and a residence at 4515 North Kingshighway, the suit sets forth. The plaintiffs are Bruce Stender, Wanda Stender, Curt Blumenthal and Annie Blumenthal.

SUES PARENTS OF HUSBAND FOR $50,000 OVER SEPARATION

Mrs. Irene M. Hablutzel Alleges the Defendants Caused Son to Leave Her.

Mrs. Irene M. Hablutzel filed suit in Circuit Court today for $50,000 against Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hablutzel, 4122 Junata street, parents of her husband, George W. Hablutzel. The petition alleges the defendants caused a separation between their son and his wife and are maintaining him in their home. The separation took place Oct. 28, 1930.

Recently Mrs. Hablutzel filed suit for separate maintenance against George Hablutzel. She is represented in both actions by Attorneys M. J. Hackett and Frank B. Grodzki, who several months ago prevented Hablutzel from prosecuting a divorce suit he had filed at Reno, Nev.

The attorneys pleaded he had failed to comply with an order of court to furnish his wife with money to defend the suit. Frank Hablutzel, a heating contractor, could not be reached.

ROBBERS BIND VICTIM, LEAVE HIM ON THE GROUND AT PARK

East St. Louis Gasoline Dealer Loses $168, Watch and Auto to Two Men.

Harry Kile Jr., a gasoline dealer of East St. Louis, was robbed of $168, his watch and automobile last night by two armed men, who forced him to drive from a point in front of his home at 1600 Belmont avenue to the deserted Eagle Park resort in Madison County, four miles north of East St. Louis, where they left him on the ground with his hands and feet tied with rope, and fled in his automobile. They were joined by a third man at North Ninth street and the city limits.

Kile freed himself a half-hour later and was taken back to East St. Louis by a motorist. He is the eleventh person kidnaped and robbed under similar circumstances in the last three months.

Loss of Metal in Six Weeks
Greatest Ever Known in Any Nation.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—An ebbing tide of gold, greatest ever experienced, has turned and is flowing strongly once more to the American shore.
Within six weeks after Great Britain's abandonment of the gold standard this country lost $740, 000,000 of gold, a bulletin of the Federal Reserve Board said today.
The publication described it as "the largest movement of the metal during a similar period in any country at any time."
Yet the process ended quickly and a Commerce Department source asserted the return of the gold was well under way. This action has occurred after every outward gold movement in recent years, leaving the United States with a bigger store each time.
The Commerce authority said the withdrawal of gold was caused by European apprehensions, partly due to a misunderstanding of the proposed National Credit Corporation. The movement was labeled a "raid on the dollar."
Less than half of the withdrawn metal left the country, however, as $315,000,000 remainder in New York, earmarked for the account of foreign banks. At the end of October much of this was released.
At the peak of the outward movement, said the Reserve Board, the American gold stock was $4,300,000,000, and gold in excess of legal requirements was more abundant than when the movement began.
The loss of gold in September and October was accompanied by an increase of $390,000,000 in money in circulation. This demand for additional currency, however, decreased somewhat in the last week of October.
The decrease, the board said, reflected improvement in the banking sentiment following organization of the National Credit Corporation.
The board reported that 512
banks with deposits of $566,886,- 000 suspended in October, as compared to 305 in September with deposits totalling $237,061,000 and 72
banks with deposits of $24,509,000
in October of last year.
Eighteen banks with deposits of $4,947,000 reopened in October and in the 10 months period of the year 220 banks with deposits of $126,339,000 began doing business again.

DANDY DUDE BEST JUMPER
AT KANSAS CITY HORSE SHOW
Aged Gelding Was One of Gen.
Pershing's Personal Mounts in France.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19.—
The qualities which led Gen. John J. Pershing to select Dandy Dude as one of his personal mounts in France are winning trophies for the aged gray gelding at the thirty-third annual American Royal Horse Show. As a hunter and jumper,
Dandy Dude, now stabled at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., has taken many prizes at the local show. He is a favorite with the crowds. Last night with Capt. C. E. Davis up, he triumphed over the difficult Olympic course and finished in first place against a large field. Earlier in the week, the gelding and Dynamite, a stable mate, placed second in the class for hunters in pairs.
The coveted prize on last night's program—the mare division of the $10,000 stake for five-gaited saddle horses—went to Sweetheart on Fe-rade, a gray mount entered by Mr.
William Roth, San Francisco. Second place went to Saran from the Dixiana Stables, Lexington, Ky., whose King Genius finished ahead of the field in the stallion division of the class earlier in the week.
Dudette McDonald, a Herbert M.
Woolf entry from Kansas City, was third.
Bedora Acres, a chestnut mare, owned by W. D. Alexander, Bloomington, Ill., was first in the $1000 stake for three-gaited mounts. Mary Virginia, entered by George Bran-dies, Omaha, was second and Mello Glo Highland from D. C. Kerchhoff's stables, St. Louis, was third.

By the Associated Press.
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 19.—
John Mitchell, former Chief State Bank Examiner, and the three members of the State Corporation Commission were indicted here yesterday for conspiracy in permitting banks known to be insolvent to remain open. Members of the Corporation Commission are W. T.
Lee, George P. Pell and Stanley Winborne.
The indictment specifically mentions the Central Bank & Trust Co. of Asheville and the Biltmore-Ogden Bank. Both banks closed last November. Twenty other banks closed following the failure of the Central Bank & Trust Co., the largest

PLEA TO EXTEND DUCK SEASON
Director of Illinois Conservation Department Makes Request.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—
An appeal to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to extend the Illinois migratory fowl hunting season another 15 days, or until Dec. 15, was made today by Director Ralph F.
Bradford of the Illinois Department of Conservation.
Director Bradford telegraphed that, because of the mild weather this month, the migratory fowl have remained in Canada later than usual.

WOMAN AID OF U. S. ATTORNEY
WILL SEEK VINDICATION

To Denounce Investigation of Conduct of Prosecution of Bishop Cannon's Brother.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Former Assistant United States Attorney
Ellamarye Fallor has announced she will seek an investigation to vindicate her conduct in the mail fraud prosecution of Harry L.
Goldhurst, through whose brokerage house Bishop James Cannon
Jr. traded in securities.
Goldhurst, who was head of Kable & Co., was sentenced in 1929 to five years in Atlanta penitentiary. Last summer the Department of Justice announced former Federal Attorney Charles H. Tuttle had recommended his parole. He will be released next April.
Senator Carter Glass of Virginia criticized the parole, declaring it gave color to a rumor Goldhurst took his sentence under a "compact" to avert Bishop Cannon's appearance as a witness.
Glass also wrote to the Attorney General that the conduct of the case was confided "to a former female student" of Bishop Cannon.
In another part he wrote that he had learned that a New Yorker had written Tuttle charging "an Assistant District Attorney had been the recipient of enumerated costly gifts as an inducement to pigeonhole the indictments" against Goldhurst.

Miss Fallor, who about 20 years ago was a student at Blackstone College when Bishop Cannon was president of the college, declared unwarranted deductions seriously reflecting upon her had been drawn. She seeks an inquiry to unjust impressions.

CHILDREN

Physicians tell us that one condition is nearly always present when a child has a digestive upset, a starting cold or other little ailment. Constipation.
When little bowels get irregular, body wastes accumulate, and poisons and infection find a fertile breeding place.
The first step toward relief is to rid the body of impure wastes.
And for this nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria!
Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for babies and children. This means it is mild and gentle enough for their delicate organs. Yet it is always effective. And of course it contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.
You never have to coax children to take Castoria. They like its taste! The genuine Castoria, you know, always has the name
Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

For Coughs From Colds That Worry You An Extra Help

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs from colds that worry you. It combines seven helps in one—the best help known to science. It is for quick relief for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold. Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake.

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, unpleasant breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? Chances are you're poisoned by irregular bowels and inactive liver. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients. They act easily upon the bowels, help free the system of poisons caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver. Roxy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.

SLEEPY, BUT NO SLEEP

Tired, But No Rest—
Acidity's Toll!

Another night of frantic tossing—and either night of futile sheep counting and dreaming for sleep—another day of tiredness, weariness and lassitude—how long will you be able to stand up under it? Yet sleeplessness is only one of the penalties of an acid condition!

Starting with acid-stomach, indigestion, gas excess acid and heartburn, acidity also sets up fermentation and putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal. This breeds poisons which are absorbed by the system and which sap strength and vitality, wrack our nerves and makes us feel run-down, restless and depressed.

Acidity today is treated by an amazing, harmless white tablet developed in Germany by the world's foremost pharmaceutical house. Magnesia Oxidiz is the name. Magnesia Oxidiz, upon contact with the gastric juice, generate nascent or active oxygen. The active oxygen does the three things necessary to halt correct acidity. This preparation neutralizes excess acid, checks fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and stimulates the natural movement of the bowels. All the old misery and distress vanishes and a new sense of vigor and well-being is restored.

Make This Acidity Test

To see just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxidiz from any good druggist. Take two after each meal and see how much better you feel, how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If, after taking the contents of one bottle, the results don't more than amaze you, return the bottle to the druggist. He will refund your money promptly and in full.

LIFE POLICY TO PAY BANKRUPTCY CLAIMS

Franklin Coal Co. Will Have $5000 Surplus Which Is in Controversy.

The discovery by Edward W. Tobin, attorney for the trustee of the bankrupt Franklin Coal Co., of a $10,000 life insurance policy payable to the company among the effects of its late president will result not only in increasing payments to creditors from $6 to 100 per cent, but will leave a surplus of more than $5000 over which the bankrupt company and creditor companies which filed no claims are in controversy.

This was disclosed in Bankruptcy Court yesterday when the Burton Coal Co. of Chicago asked that the surplus be applied on its claim of $5619 for deliveries of coal alleged to have been made to the bankrupt company without payment.

The bankrupt company replied that the Burton company had not presented its claim within the legal period, and interposed a counter claim for $5508, asserting that it was damaged in that amount by reason of a breach of contract by the Burton company. The Franklin company also asked for $25,000 punitive damages, alleging that the breach had forced it into bankruptcy.

The Franklin company filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition May 15, 1928, and the Burton company failed to file its claim within the legal period expiring six months later. The estate was administered by the trustee and last July it paid a "final dividend" totaling $1686, or 35.9 per cent of allowed claims aggregating $4711.

Tobin, investigating at this time the effects of Louis C. Meid, president of the bankrupt company, who had died several weeks previously, chanced upon the insurance policy and collected $9864 for the estate from the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Not long afterwards the Burton company presented its claim and the Southern Illinois Coal Co. came forward with a similar claim for $350.

Referee in Bankruptcy Coles took the cases under advisement yesterday after hearing evidence on behalf of all parties. Should the Burton company be successful in its contention it will receive payment of its claim to the extent of the available surplus in the estate. Should it be unsuccessful, the surplus will go to stockholders of the bankrupt company, provided, of course, that the Burton company fails also to establish its counter claim.

Dr. C. P. Marvin, chief of the Weather Bureau, who attended the League Committee meeting in Switzerland as a technical adviser, said today this note would be referred to the State Department for possible changes before it was made public.

The committee hopes the churches will have expressed their attitudes by 1933. If its suggested date is approved, it can be made effective soon afterward.

WOMAN SUES, SAYS CROONER MADE HER FAINT IN THEATER
Charges at Louisville, Ky., That She Was Insulted by Song

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Susan R. Hall, 45 years old, who says she fainted when a crooner sang to her in a theater, has filed suit for $10,000 damages from the amusement company.

Her petition alleges that when the entertainer stopped beside her seat and sang while the spotlights played on them she was "insulted, embarrassed, tantalized and harassed." As a result of becoming hysterical and fainting, she said, she was ill six weeks and her name was "brought to public ridicule, scandal, infamy and disgrace."

GETS 10 YEARS FOR HOLDUP
Loan Firm Robber Pleads Guilty Under Hench Law

Fred Massey, 24 years old, a Negro, 3920 Cook avenue, pleaded guilty of robbery under the Hench law in Judge Ryan's court yesterday and was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Massey was one of four men implicated in holding up the Friedman Loan & Mercantile Co. on Aug. 1, last, in which $123 and a quantity of jewelry were taken. Cases of three other defendants are yet to be disposed of.

RELATIVES DOUBT HUDSPETH SENT LETTER FROM ARGENTINA

ST. JOE, Ark., Nov. 19.—Close relatives of A. T. Hudspeth, fugitive Harrison banker, gave little credence to authenticity of the letter, allegedly written by Hudspeth in Argentina, received by W. E. Angel of Bruno. The letter asked the Bruno merchant to take care of Hudspeth's daughter.

A brother-in-law of Hudspeth said the letter was unreasonable, as Hudspeth and Angel never had been close friends. He said Hudspeth had brothers here and that his wife has nine brothers and sisters living in this county, all of whom would be able and willing to supply any money or other favors Hudspeth is supposed to have asked.

GRANGE ASKS U. S. TO TRY TO PREVENT WAR

Reduction of Armaments and Entry Into World Court Also Favored.

By the Associated Press
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—The National Grange convention yesterday approved a report asking the United States Government to use its influence in preventing war in Manchuria.
The request was continued in a report submitted by the Foreign Relations Committee, headed by E. B. Dossert, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange. The committee's report also favored reduction of armaments and recommended the inclusion of a farmer on the United States delegation to the disarmament conference.
A resolution reaffirming the Grange's stand in favor of Philippine independence also found support in the convention. The organization adopted a resolution favoring conscription of corporations and wealth as well as man power in times of war. Another resolution that won support provided that military training in land grant colleges should be optional instead of compulsory.
Participation by the United States in the World Court is demanded in another resolution adopted. Three resolutions bearing on transportation were among the first to be adopted. One sought Federal legislation to limit the size, weight and speed of motor vehicles while another asked further development of waterway for freight use. The third favored the construction of a ship canal from the Great Lakes to the sea.

FRISCO PRESIDENT OPTIMISTIC

Says Business Is on the Upgrade in the Southwest
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19.—J. M. Kurn, president of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., said here last night his interviews with merchants, bankers and farmers in Kansas and Missouri during his present inspection trip have convinced him "the mental attitude of our business people is changing from one of doubt to one of confidence."
"I believe that this change of attitude is the best thing that can happen to American industry," he said. "There is a definite improvement in business. I want to be conservative. I know we can't reverse a situation in a day, but agriculture and business are on the upgrade in the Southwest territory."

NOTRE DAME PLANS TO USE PASSING ATTACK AGAINST TROJANS

DEFENSIVE PLAY IS STRESSED IN LONG PRACTICE FOR COAST TEAM

By the Associated Press.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 19.—Southern California's Trojan football team can expect a dazzling counter attack forward passes Saturday when they storm the football citadel of old Notre Dame.

For years the impression has prevailed in the case of the South Bend raiders that the aerial attack is the chief ground gaining weapon against the Trojans, and this year is no exception. Coach Harty "Hunk" Anderson, bounteously equipped with tossers, expects to start throwing passes from the start of the battle.

Several new aerial plays have been given to the backfield men, while considerable attention has been paid to a line play named Ed Krause. Those who have watched Krause come out of the line in practice all have the liver even to 75 yards, predicted a rival for the great "Brick" Muller of California fame.

So far this season, except in the battle against the Panthers from Pittsburg, the Notre Dame running attack has been more than sufficient. But against the Panthers, the pass attack was flashed impressively for only a few minutes and it was enough.

Although Coach Anderson wore a worried expression as the game neared, Notre Dame's hopes of repelling the Trojan invasion bounded upward. George Melnikovich, first string fullback who was injured during the Navy game, was back in uniform and will be ready if it comes to the worst. Meanwhile Coach Anderson changed his lineup to obtain greater speed under punts and better blocking. Active scrimmage was called off so as to preclude any more injuries.

There were still about 15,000 tickets left to be sold today, but the ticket managers were certain of a sell-out crowd of 55,000 for the game in Notre Dame's new brick stadium.

U. S. C. Line Is Changed.

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 19.—A tentative lineup in the line of the University of Southern California Trojans caused speculation today as Coach Howard Jones and his football squad sped eastward to keep an engagement with Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

The Westerners went through a two-hour drill with yesterday with former backfield men at positions in the forward wall and several line men playing at new positions. Captain Stanley Williamson, however, remained at center.

At eight in the morning one foot kept Gus Shaver, quarterback, out of the practice, but he expected to be in fine shape for the game Saturday. Orville Mohler substituted for him.

Interest was centered on defensive play with Aubrey Devine, former star low quarterback and now assistant to Jones, taking the role of Marchmont Schwartz.

The team faced a workout today at Hutchinson, Kan., and another tomorrow at Stage Field, Chicago.

KENTUCKY DOG WINS U. S. FIELD TRIAL WITH GREAT SHOWING

By the Associated Press.

VINITA, Ok., Nov. 19.—Gangster, a dog so good he didn't even have to enter the final, retrieved first place money for his owner, Jimmy Gargis, Lexington, Ky. In the twenty-seventh American Futurity field trials ended here yesterday.

The 10 months' old Gangster coursed the field the first day of the three-day meet, yet his performance was so outstanding it still was the talk of the gathering as the trailing 10 dogs left the field last night after final performances.

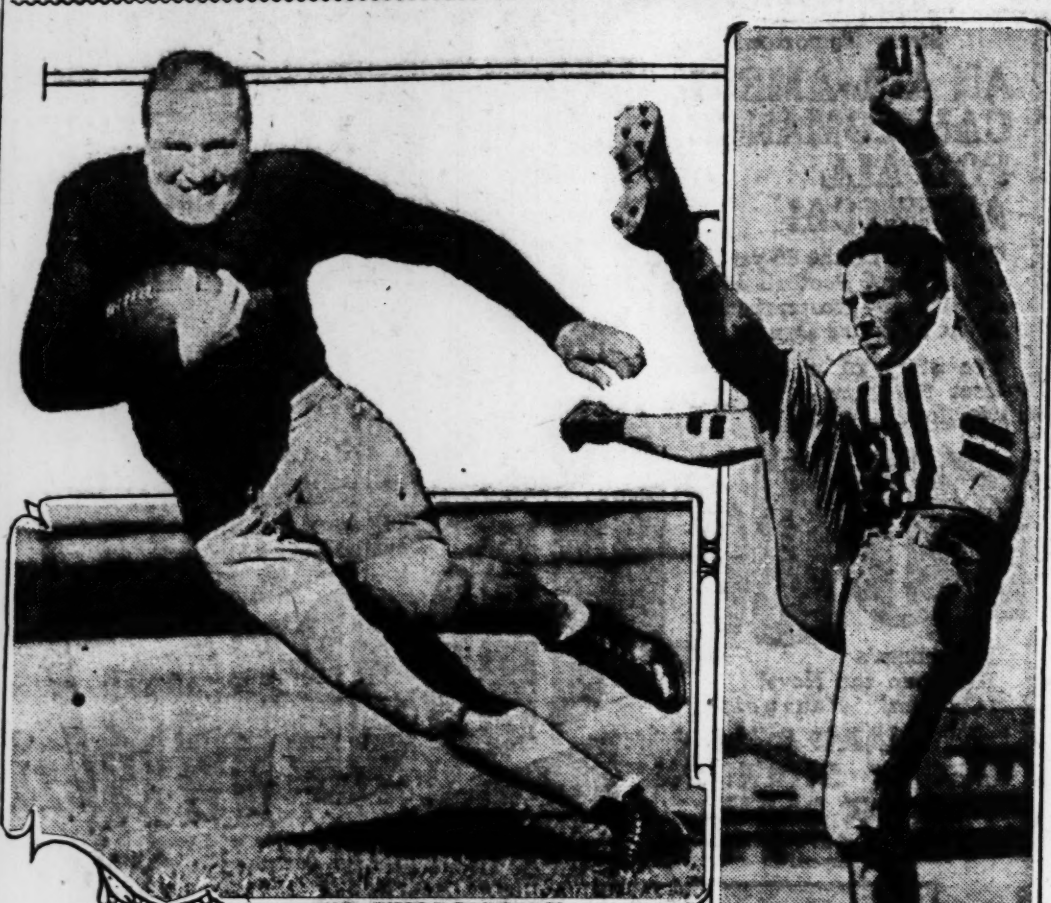

Second place went to Inchaway, owned by Jacob Francis, Tulsa, while third went to Bluestone Ted, owned by Dr. T. H. Wallingford of West Virginia, and fourth to Lolo's Lane Kid, owned by Raymond Hoagland, Rumson, N. J.

Yale Has Capable Set of Backfield Substitutes for Game With Harvard Eleven

By the Associated Press.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19.—The unvanquished Harvard varsity football forces yesterday had their last real workout of the season and spent most of it facing the Yale formations put on by the black-shirted scrubs in a dummy scrimmage.

The varsity had little trouble stopping the Yale plays and was especially effective against the Eli's overhead attack.

Harvard had four scouts following Yale this season and the quartet supervised the scrub team's play.

This work was preceded by a short session on the tackling dummy and blocking machine and was followed by a 15-minute signal drill, during which several new plays were given a polishing.

A traditional ceremony, not held at Harvard in recent years, probably will be revived after today's short workout. The Harvard players have informed Eddie Casey that they would regard the burning of their tackling dummy as a lucky omen and the head coach not only gave his permission but promised to take a leading part in the destruction of the roundly hated stuffed figure.

When Coach Lee R. Carlson of a powerful string of reserve backs will comprise one of the Eli's main threats when the Bulldogs invade Cambridge Saturday for the annual Yale-Harvard battle.

Coach Mai Stevens will have 13 men, any of whom can be expected to deliver an impressive performance, to call upon for backfield posts. In contrast, the Yale squad contains barely enough strong and effective men to complete one substitute line, while around Eli training quarters it is conceded that the few line substitutes can be expected to fill their places as effectively as any of the seven regulars.

Parker, Lassiter, Crowley and Levering are expected to start in the backfield. Capt. Albie Booth, still suffering somewhat from painful leg injuries received two weeks ago, probably will be sent in early to relieve Lassiter at left halfback. Early substitution of Sanchez, Taylor and Muehlford for Parker, Crowley and Levering at quarter, right halfback and fullback, respectively, will complete the second backfield.

There is still Charlie Heim, like Booth, a lightweight, but also like his captain, fast and shifty, who made an impressive mark in the concluding games of last year, but who had been on the bench much of this year because of injuries. Tom Williamson, who scored one of the Eli's touchdowns against Dartmouth, will be available for halfback. MacLean, Williamson, Sullivan, Bachman and Kay Todd, all effective ball carriers, complete the list of strong backfield substitutes.

Roosevelt Team Will Not Play Alabama Eleven

It was learned definitely this morning that there will be no post-season high school football game between Roosevelt and Tusculooa, Ala. The Rough Riders had planned on playing at Tusculooa whether they win or lose to Soltan in the second game of the final doubleheader at the Public Schools Stadium, but a telegram sent to the Post-Dispatch by Al Clemens, the Alabama's coach removes any probability of the game.

The message stated, "Tusculooa plays Hopkinsville, Ky. here Nov. 20. Cannot afford another heavy guarantee here. Interested in game in St. Louis. Cannot play after Nov. 28 by rule of our association."

When Coach Lee R. Carlson of Roosevelt learned of the telegram he said that he would attempt to schedule a game with some other Southern school, especially if Soltan won the battle and the team of the coin to determine which school will play Tilden Tech of Chicago there Thanksgiving. If Roosevelt wins Saturday it becomes permanent owner of the Yale Bowl emblematic of the championship.

MISSOURI WILL PLAY WILDCATS IN 1931 OPENER

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 19.—The University of Missouri will open its 1932 football schedule against Northwestern University, champions of the Big Ten Conference, at Evanston, Oct. 1, C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, announced here last night.

With approval of the game by the university committee on intercollegiate athletics, next fall's schedule is practically complete. Early substitution of Sanchez, Taylor and Muehlford for Parker, Crowley and Levering at quarter, right halfback and fullback, respectively, will complete the second backfield.

There is still Charlie Heim, like Booth, a lightweight, but also like his captain, fast and shifty, who made an impressive mark in the concluding games of last year, but who had been on the bench much of this year because of injuries. Tom Williamson, who scored one of the Eli's touchdowns against Dartmouth, will be available for halfback. MacLean, Williamson, Sullivan, Bachman and Kay Todd, all effective ball carriers, complete the list of strong backfield substitutes.

Next year's game with Northwestern will be the third time the Tigers have met a Big Ten Conference foe in the last decade. In 1924 Missouri defeated the Chicago Maroons who won the Big Ten title that season when Art Coglier's field goal was good for a 3 to 0 victory.

Three years later, in 1927, the Tigers defeated Northwestern, 34 to 19. The Wildcats are now rated as one of the leading teams in the country. This year they have defeated all opponents except the Irish of Notre Dame, whom they held to a scoreless tie.

The 1931 schedule, as now arranged:

Nov. 20—Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

Oct. 2—Texas at Columbia, Mo.

Oct. 9—Texas at Columbia, Mo.

Oct. 23—Iowa State at Columbia, Mo.

Nov. 6—Oklahoma at Norman, Okla.

Nov. 13—Oklahoma at Norman, Okla.

Nov. 20—Open.

Nov. 24—Thanksgiving—Nebraska at Lincoln.

Yeckel Replaces Austin

In Tiger Battle Front

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 19.—The University of Missouri's probable starting lineup for the fortieth annual football classic with the Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence Saturday is an intercollegiate match, Assistant Coach Jack Crangle and Harry Lansing.

The chief aids of Quinn Ewing, head mentor who has been forced to remain in a hospital here during the remainder of the season by illness, will stand pat on last week's starters against Oklahoma, with the exception of Phil Yeckel replacing Hal Austin at guard.

Mixed Doubles Contest

A "bring your partner" handicap mixed doubles will be held at the German House alleys Sunday evening, Nov. 22, with squads rolling at 7, 8 and 9 p. m. Entry fee is $1.00 per person and reservations can be made by calling F200000 6194.

BILLIKENS, BEARS TO BE AT FULL STRENGTH FOR GAME THURSDAY

Nothing startling developed in the practice of the Bears and Billikens, yesterday, in training for their big annual battle a week from today. Both squads will be in excellent shape for the tussle, not a man being out with injuries.

According to Head Coach Al Sharr at Washington, the Bears will line up just about as they did against Kansas. Landwirth is a fixture at one end with Gustafson, Hedenkamp and Schoenhaler all having a "hook-in" for the job at the other flank. Probably, all three will see action though which will start has not yet been decided.

Steinacker and Higgins will divide work at center.

At St. Louis, Head Coach Walsh, in reply to a question, stated that his team was in the finest possible condition and that every man on his varsity squad would be available for duty.

Tomorrow will finish practice for the week for both teams as Saturday is a holiday for them. All the coaches of both teams will take to the highway and wend their respective ways to South Bend for the game between Notre Dame and Southern California.

The Billikens will work out Sunday, but the Bears will not. Then, next week, both teams will have three days in which to put the final touches to their work and Thursday night, the regular football season, so far as this city is concerned will be history.

There will remain to be played the charity game on Dec. 6 between Missouri and the winner of the Thanksgiving day game.

ROY BECKMAN BREAKS HALF-MILE SKATING RECORD AT GARDEN

ROY Beckman of the Pledge team was the first senior ice skater to set a new record at the Winter Garden this season. Beckman, skating in the senior C class, covered the half mile in 1:39.1, which was 1.9 seconds faster than the time set last year.

Len Fossagey of the Sunset Park team took the lead at the start and set a fast pace throughout the entire race, only to have Roy Beckman and Jim Moloney slip by him with a lap and a half to go. This put them on even terms and they rounded corners shoulder to shoulder, each making a dive for the finish line. Beckman, however, held his lead and won by a narrow margin.

The ice was slow and had many rough spots which were hindering the other skaters who had bigger jobs than the C class. The other skaters were much faster, but their records were from two to four seconds faster than they skated.

The results of the half mile events:

Senior—James O'Brien, Winter Garden, first; M. Dabbsky, Conference, second; M. Dabbsky, third.

Junior—M. Dabbsky, first; M. Dabbsky, second; M. Dabbsky, third.

Sophomore—M. Dabbsky, first; M. Dabbsky, second; M. Dabbsky, third.

Freshman—M. Dabbsky, first; M. Dabbsky, second; M. Dabbsky, third.

GERMAN SWEDISH TEAM LEADS IN MINNEAPOLIS SIX-DAY BIKE RACE

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 19.—The team of Bernhard Stubecke, German speedster, and Brank Knudsen, Swedish, today won the first six-day bicycle race.

As the second day of the contest started, the German-Swedish pair had covered 519 miles and four laps. One lap back in second place was the French-Swiss combination of Jules Audy and Freddie Zach.

William Peden of Montreal and Roy Moebeck, Minneapolis, were third, two laps behind the leaders. The team of Florvanti Baggio and Mike Philippe, who last night had shared first place, were down to fourth, tied with Oscar Rasmussen and Gus Rys, the Belgians, three laps in the rear, with other teams trailing.

S. M. U. ELEVEN IS ON WAY EAST FOR GAME AT ANNAPOLIS

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 19.—Undeafed this season on Southwestern soil, the Southern Methodist University football squad left here yesterday afternoon for Annapolis, Md., where it will meet the Navy Saturday in an intercollegiate match. Twenty-seven players and five attendants, including Coach Ray Morrison, composed the party.

About 100 S. M. U. fans will leave for the East today. The Mustangs have won eight consecutive games this fall. Last year they defeated the Navy, 20-7.

Stein Defeats Ludwig

Otto Stein Jr. defeated William Ludwig, 1241 to 1105, in the last five games of their special bowling match last night on the Washington alleys. Stein's total for the 10 games of 2387 was 156 pins better than Ludwig's.

Washington and St. Louis Freshman Elevens Are Ready for Annual Game

By James M. Gould.

Freshmen who play football don't often get a chance to bask in the limelight bit, tomorrow night, at Francis Field, the first-year men of St. Louis and Washington Universities will have the opportunity to "rise and shine" when the annual game between the two will be played.

The game is of real importance, for the freshman is the varsity player of the future. Moreover, a real battle is promised for both squads are stronger than usual. The young Billikens have a couple of successive victories to their credit, winning in 1929 and again last year, and the Cubs of Washington are anxious to stop this streak.

Many "Go Up."

Just to show how freshman players "graduate" to the big time in football, take the 1930 frosh squads at both schools. The 1930 St. Louis starting lineup included, of the press varsity squad, Minkey, Beckwith, Philpott, Barbaglia, Beck, Artell, Feldman, Arenz and Rapp, while Washington's was Wendt, Pfeiffer, Steinacker, Ergamer, Karchner, Smith, Hedenkamp and Schoenhaler. The St. Louis victory was by a 21-7 score.

Naturally, then, the boys who play in tomorrow night's game will be carefully watched by the coaches of the two universities.

Each of the younger teams has played twice. St. Louis defeated the McKendree reserves in both its games, while Washington defeated the same team and lost by a small score to heavy, experienced Shurtlett College varsity team, looking high-class in defeat.

It is a strange thing, but the starting lineups as given out by the coaches of the two squads will, in toto, exactly the same. In 1930, exactly the same, 1930 pounds, which would make each team average 173. St. Louis will have the heavier line, with an average of 177 to Washington's 172, but the young Bears, in the backfield, will have a nine-pound advantage, 175 to 166.

In attack, the two freshman teams will follow the line of their own varsities, the young Billikens will shift and the young Bears having an offense without it. From the work of the two teams, tomorrow night's game would seem to be a sure-scoring affair for both.

Washington's potential scorers are Blumberg, Strand, Koerner and Brown, with Blumberg and Brown having stood out in previous games. Blumberg, a shifty and fast runner, is as fast and as powerful, if not so heavy, is composed of O'Keefe at quarter; Hurley, Kane and Keleske, all of whom have shown real ability.

Flint, the Washington center, will have quite a job on his hands. He will be opposed by Joe Moar, who, at Cleveland, won all-star honors three seasons in succession. Moar will score on Flint 24 pounds, and should be able to form, should be one of the stars of the clash.

Tomorrow night's game will be the last game of the local season. It will start at 8 p. m. student tickets of both universities will be honored, and there will be an admission charge of 50 cents for the general public.

"Shock Troops" Is Right.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY and other coaches are ready to agree the "shock troops" have been correctly named. These are the second string football players sent in at the start of the game, to feel out the strength of the enemy and force him to exhibit his own strength while the regular field generals and players sit on the bench and get an eyeful. Also an earful from the coach, who tells them how to meet the enemy's plays.

But in several instances this year the shock units and the coaches have been themselves shocked—hard. The second string troops yielded a touchdown that caused New York's defeat by Oregon and again by Georgia. Several instances of defeat that followed failure to start the game with full strength are on record.

Now the idea is not so popular, except where one team has a considerable advantage over the other. The regulars of defeat that followed failure to start the game with full strength are on record.

There have been some unkind insinuations against this bit of strategy and these party account for the name. The first starting lineup was supposed to be made up of tough boys who would "soften up" the enemy before the regulars could make them apart more easily.

But that's the bunk. The first team of the enemy far more frequently did the damage to the regulars than the shock troops and all too frequently broke through them for a score.

There may be a revision downward in the use of shock troops next season.

THE shock troops plan will probably be used by the Billikens against Washington Thanksgiving day. In this case it is justified because the St. Louis eleven has such a wealth of material, especially in the backfield, that it is difficult to classify second string from first string players. The line replacements are almost as equally powerful.

However, in this instance it has been suggested by alumni that it would be better to start the regulars and take them out for replacements later, if it was found justifiable.

There is a wholesome respect for the resourcefulness of Washington football teams as shown on Thanksgiving night against St. Louis. The Billikens on several occasions thought they had the game wrapped up in advance, only to be beaten or tied on the football day.

Alumni pretend to be fearful that Washington has kept its best for the last and will shoot.

$600 MONTHLY SALARY LIMIT FOR NEXT YEAR IN ASSOCIATION

Rick Ferrell Is Charged With "Costly" Error

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., Nov. 19.—

Too much speed caused Rick Ferrell, catcher of the St. Louis Browns, to make a "costly" error here.

Arrested by a State highway patrolman for failure to stop at an intersection, Ferrell was hauled into Forsyth Superior Court yesterday.

"It was just another error," the baseball catcher told Judge John M. Ogleby.

"Costly," said the jurist. "Any man who can stop a king fish and they speed them now ought to be able to read a stop sign."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The opening shot of the long-expected battle to trim baseball salaries has been fired on the American Association front.

Taking the initiative of the move, club owners of the association today considered one of the most drastic wage cuts in years. Several others, including the major leagues, were expected to follow suit in greater or lesser degree.

Under the present American Association proposal, the maximum player salary would be limited to a maximum of $600 monthly. Former players roamed around the AA league with salaries close to the ones they received for big time baseball.

Such a drastic wage reduction undoubtedly would cut the playing days of major league players. In short order as most of them refuse to continue in the game for much less than they received in the majors.

Thomas Jefferson Hicker still held the presidential seat of the American Association today, victor of another fight to oust him. When the balloting began a hopeful four to four deadlock after five days, the club owners voted unanimously to give him a one-year's contract as they did a year ago.

After a two-day discussion on the financial condition of the association, now in the hands of a receiver, the club owners decided to send a committee of two—Norman Perry of Indianapolis and L. S. MacPhail of Columbus—to see what could be done toward rehabilitation.

The two were asked to ascertain how much money was needed to lease the baseball park for a 10-year period. If a satisfactory lease is obtainable it is understood that two former American League stars, Ray Schalk and George Slaughter, would bid for the franchise.

Glenn Wright Says His Ankles Are Improving

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Good news has come from Brooklyn baseball fans and from Max Carey, upon whose shoulders rest the task of turning the team into a winner next season. Glenn Wright reports that his weak ankles are becoming strong again and that Brooklyn can count on him to hold the position for the remainder of the season.

"That," said Manager Carey yesterday, "is the best news I have had since taking over this job. Wright is the mainspring of our infield, if not the entire team. It is a special cause of treatment for his weakened ligaments, exercising on a device that resembles the top of a roof, slanting away on both sides."

Cubs to Make Effort To Obtain Ed Brandt

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The two master minds of the Chicago Cubs, President William L. Veeck and Manager Rogers Hornsby, opened their series of secret conferences today to discover ways and means of producing a National League pennant winner for 1932.

President Veeck made a tour of the East last week searching for deals and several were reported in the making. It was known that Ed Brandt, star Boston pitcher, was one of those sought to wear a Cub uniform.

Hornsby arrived yesterday and spent most of his time conferring with American Association club owners.

PRIMO, 3 TO 1 CHOICE, WILL HAVE 78 POUNDS WEIGHT MARGIN

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—King Levinsky, Chicago's fighting fish pond, goes angling for the largest catch in boxing's big pool tonight when he battles the man mountain Primo in a feature battle at the Chicago Stadium.

The struggle was one of the all time wins and nothing to lose for Levinsky, whose furious, unorthodox attack has made him one of the real trial horses of the ring. Camera, aided by a weight advantage of 78½, was a 3-to-1 favorite, although the king fisher friends were confident he would knock out the big Italian behemoth with a knockout.

More than 15,000 spectators were expected to watch the struggle, which was supported by a 10-day battle between Primo and Battalino, world's featherweight champion, and Bushy Grapagnin to trim baseball salaries has been fired on the American Association front.

Such a drastic wage reduction undoubtedly would cut the playing days of major league players. In short order as most of them refuse to continue in the game for much less than they received in the majors.

Thomas Jefferson Hicker still held the presidential seat of the American Association today, victor of another fight to oust him. When the balloting began a hopeful four to four deadlock after five days, the club owners voted unanimously to give him a one-year's contract as they did a year ago.

After a two-day discussion on the financial condition of the association, now in the hands of a receiver, the club owners decided to send a committee of two—Norman Perry of Indianapolis and L. S. MacPhail of Columbus—to see what could be done toward rehabilitation.

The two were asked to ascertain how much money was needed to lease the baseball park for a 10-year period. If a satisfactory lease is obtainable it is understood that two former American League stars, Ray Schalk and George Slaughter, would bid for the franchise.

Glenn Wright Says His Ankles Are Improving

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Good news has come from Brooklyn baseball fans and from Max Carey, upon whose shoulders rest the task of turning the team into a winner next season. Glenn Wright reports that his weak ankles are becoming strong again and that Brooklyn can count on him to hold the position for the remainder of the season.

"That," said Manager Carey yesterday, "is the best news I have had since taking over this job. Wright is the mainspring of our infield, if not the entire team. It is a special cause of treatment for his weakened ligaments, exercising on a device that resembles the top of a roof, slanting away on both sides."

Cubs to Make Effort To Obtain Ed Brandt

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The two master minds of the Chicago Cubs, President William L. Veeck and Manager Rogers Hornsby, opened their series of secret conferences today to discover ways and means of producing a National League pennant winner for 1932.

President Veeck made a tour of the East last week searching for deals and several were reported in the making. It was known that Ed Brandt, star Boston pitcher, was one of those sought to wear a Cub uniform.

Hornsby arrived yesterday and spent most of his time conferring with American Association club owners.

HILLSBORO, Ill., Nov. 19.—The Hillsboro Community High School team defeated the Park O'Shocker squad in a South Central Illinois conference game here yesterday, 12 to 0.

Bud Green Reinstated

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—King Levinsky, Chicago's fighting fish pond, goes angling for the largest catch in boxing's big pool tonight when he battles the man mountain Primo in a feature battle at the Chicago Stadium.

The struggle was one of the all time wins and nothing to lose for Levinsky, whose furious, unorthodox attack has made him one of the real trial horses of the ring. Camera, aided by a weight advantage of 78½, was a 3-to-1 favorite, although the king fisher friends were confident he would knock out the big Italian behemoth with a knockout.

Camera tipped the scales at 214 pounds when he weighed in today. Levinsky weighed 136, conceding 78½ pounds to the Italian.

More than 15,000 spectators were expected to watch the struggle, which was supported by a 10-day battle between Primo and Battalino, world's featherweight champion, and Bushy Grapagnin to trim baseball salaries has been fired on the American Association front.

Under the present American Association proposal, the maximum player salary would be limited to a maximum of $600 monthly. Former players roamed around the AA league with salaries close to the ones they received for big time baseball.

MATE ASSIGNED TOP WEIGHT IN $25,000 STAKE

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 19.—A. C. Bowick's Mate, which many turfmen regard as the second best of this year's three-year-olds, will have to carry top weight of 127 pounds if he starts in the $25,000 Southern Maryland Handicap here Saturday.

Racing Secretary Joseph McLennan has rated the son of Prince Pal seven pounds better than Morton L. Schwartz's Clock Tower, which conquered him in both the Maryland and Washington handicaps at Laurel. It is doubtful if Clock Tower will start Saturday.

Plucky Play, which won the Flies at Pimlico last Saturday, has been assigned 121 pounds, five under the scale for four-year-olds, in the event for three-year-olds and up at a mile and a furlong.

Pittsburgher, the big In Memoriam colt which has been a threat throughout the season, has been given 115. Other eligibles and their weight assignments are: Blenheim, 105; Dr. Freehand, 118; Flamingo, 103; Happy Scott, 103; Hillsborough, 102; Inception, 104; Mr. Spongy, 121; Marine, 114; Pilate, 110; Risque, 112; Repentance, 104; Storm, 105; Surf Board, 105; St. Bridoux, 114; Tambour, 111; Tred Avon, 108; and Valenciennes, 109.

HELIANTHUS, OUTSIDER, WINS BAY SHORE PURSE

By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—Outsiders in the wagering got all of the money in the running of the Bay Shore Purses over six furlongs at Bowie yesterday.

Helianthus, scored by a head and paid $28.30 for a $2 straight ticket. The Lemar Stock Farm's veteran campaigner, Mispaw, was second and paid $11.90 for place, while Mrs. L. W. Lott's Mabie, the third horse, paid $38.40 for a $2 show ticket.

The favorites, Rudolph Spreckels' Judge Schilling and W. R. Coe's entry of Black Majesty and Masked Ball finished out of the money as Helianthus reeled off the distance in 1:11.5. Masked Ball closed well, but Black Majesty stopped and Judge Schilling never was a factor.

New Puck Is in Use in National Hockey Circuit

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The National League hockey season is one week old, and not one fan in a hundred knows that a new puck has been introduced this year. For that matter, very few players, except those closely connected with hockey, know that the league officials have followed the suit of baseball and golf moguls and adopted a new puck.

The rubber disk in use since the start of this season differs from the old one only slightly. Yet discussions have started, pro and con, as to its true worth. Art Ross, manager of the Boston Bruins, designed the newest model, rounding off the sharp edges to prevent the disk from rolling when being pushed along the ice by a player's stick.

Some players have complained, even this early, that the puck is harder to lift from the surface of the ice, and, as a result, sharpshooters will have a hard time flipping the puck into opposing nets.

The Board of Governors adopted the new puck at their summer meeting.

REGULAR QUARTERBACK FOR NAVY IS OUSTED BY NEW STAR'S WORK

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 19.—Bert Davis, a comparative newcomer to Navy football ranks, has been selected by Coach Rip Miller to direct the Tars in their game with Southern Methodist here Saturday. Davis has developed so rapidly that he has ousted Jack Denny, regular quarterback.

It was indicated that Bullet Lou Kirm, the Navy backfield ace, who last year gained 111 yards against the Mustangs with his line plunging, would start his first game of the season Saturday. He has been handicapped by an injury so far.

TWO RECORDS BROKEN IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Two records were broken in the Mount City League at the Rogers alleys by the Julianna who rolled 2888 for three games and the Silver Seals rolled 1024 for a single game mark. The Seals are leading the league by two games with the Julianna second. Last week's results were: Julianna 3, Mermoda 0; Seals 2, Jolly Five 1; Fairmonts 1, Blowers 1; Horns 2, Rogers 1; Guaranty Five 3, Brauers 1; C. V. Quinn won weekly high single with 248, while R. Bernachi and John Rueckert tied for high three honors, each getting 611.

KIRKWOOD HIGH GIRLS LOSE HOCKEY MATCH TO BURROUGHS

FARM BOY CHAMPIONS WIN TRIPS TO 4-H CLUB CONGRESS

National Committee Picks Five From 95,000 Members of Livestock Clubs.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The farm boy champions of 95,000 young members of livestock clubs were proclaimed last night by the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' Club work.

They are: Harold P. Hamilton, 19 years old, of Pine Plains, N. Y.; Walter Jaeger, 20, of Sherwood, Ore.; Randall Marion, 19, Mooreville, Miss.; and Carl Oldham, 19, Hancock County, Ind.

Their records in raising baby beef, purebred beef cattle, market pig, breeding hog, market lamb and breeding sheep were selected as outstanding among 35 State champions who had been chosen from the 95,000 boys and girls in 4-H clubs.

Prizes will be trips to the National 4-H Club congress here simultaneously with the International Livestock Exposition, Nov. 27 to Dec. 5. Thomas E. Wilson, packer and sponsor of the contest, also will give $300, $200 and $100 scholarships to the three high point winners at the congress.

PLANS BILL GIVING CITIES EQUAL SHARE IN GASOLINE TAX

Illinois Municipal League to Present Draft of Measure to Legislature.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—A bill is to be drafted by a subcommittee of the Illinois Municipal League for presentation to the Legislature to allow cities to share equally in the three-cent State gasoline tax with the counties and State. At present one-third of the tax goes to counties and two-thirds to the State with certain aid going to the cities where a State route goes through them.

The league went on record as opposing legislation to abolish township assessors and collectors, opposing the "budget plan" of the Governor's revenue commission, alleging that home rule would be taken from the cities if the recommendations of the commission were adopted. The group tabled a proposal of Mayor J. H. Hallstrom, Rockford, that it favor the abolition of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Eighty men from 35 municipalities attended the meeting which was presided over by Mayor James H. Andrews of Kewanee.

SAYS SCHOOL WAS BURNED BECAUSE BOY DISLIKED GOING

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., Nov. 19.—A boy's aversion for school was the cause of the burning of the Colver Glenn School near Equality Nov. 2, authorities said yesterday. Three youths are in jail charged with arson.

According to Fire Marshal F. D. Talley of Mount Carmel and Walter Doshier of Carmel, Arthur Kingston, 18 years old, confessed the school was burned because Babe Kingston, 17, disliked attending school. Dan Kingston, 19, brother of Babe, also is in jail facing arson charges.

The officers said Arthur admitted in his confession that Babe was on parole from a reformatory. They carried kerosene a half mile from their home to set the school afire, the conflagration taking place about 6 o'clock in the morning, according to Arthur's alleged confession.

EMINENCE, Mo., Nov. 19.—Round Spring Cave, north of here, has been opened to the public by its owners, Ed Houser and Edwin C. Meyers.

"I protect my voice with LUCKIES"

"It's that delightful taste after a cup of coffee that makes Luckies a hit with me. And naturally I protect my voice with Luckies. No harsh irritants for me... I reach for a Lucky instead. Congratulations on your improved Cellophane wrapper. I can open it."

Edmund Lowe

Who can forget Edmund Lowe as "Sergeant Quirt" in "What Price Glory?" That mighty role made Eddie famous in filmland—and he's more than held his own in a long line of talkie triumphs. We hope you saw him in "The Spider." And be sure to see him in the Fox thriller, "The Cisco Kid."

*****

Made of the finest tobaccos—The Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain harsh, biting irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT.

FARRELL looked at the door through which two battered and bleeding thugs had half-carried the semiconscious Rayne. The battle had been brief but terrific. Prepared to maltreat one man, the visitors had been unable to cope with two. Victory had been complete. The whimpering Rayne, his opponents were assured, would not longer delay his departure from the city, nor would his companions attempt further revenge upon Jimmy Farrell.

The dancer looked at Curzon. That young gentleman was sitting, bent over, upon a chair. He was sick, giddy, bruised. Farrell grinned. He had not come through the fracas unmarked, either.

"Gee, it was a pipkin while it lasted," he commented. "How you feel? Pretty terrible? Drink? No? What say to a cup of coffee?" Through a partly closed eye Curzon looked at him.

"You and I haven't finished our business," he said thickly.

"It takes two to make a fight, big boy," grinned Farrell. "There's only one of you."

"You won't fight?" Curzon rose and stood unsteadily.

Farrell shook his head.

"Say, you took about twice as much from those boys as I did. You're in no shape."

"Never mind my condition," said Curzon.

"Well then, I'll think of my own," said Farrell. "I've had all the fight I can use. Say, do you think I'd hit you after the way you just stood by me? That Rayne guy would have put me in the hospital for a month if you hadn't been here."

Three to one, when? I'd have put on a good show against that trio, wouldn't I? Oh, I know—I'm a Broadway hooper and you hate my soul, but just the same I want to thank you. You're one tough, game lad, Curzon."

THE bruised cheeks of Curzon colored. Odd that he should esteem this compliment from a man that he despised.

"That's a gosh-awful right you pack," went on Farrell.

"Your left has a certain amount of merit," said Curzon. He grinned wryly. "You hit me with it as I came in."

"I didn't notice it interfering with your routine," said the dancer, dryly. "I noticed myself on the floor two seconds after I'd landed on you."

Curzon shrugged.

"One punch doesn't make a fight," he disclaimed. "That left of yours?"

"I got a right one," said Farrell, simply.

"I saw it put one of those men on the floor," said Curzon.

"Not that I think I'd have landed it on you," Farrell hastily went on. "You're fast."

"You're tough," admitted Curzon. "And I imagine you have plenty of speed."

"I need more space to maneuver in," said Farrell. "I guess you got about 16 pounds on me, eh?"

"That extra inch of reach of yours would offset that," said Curzon.

Farrell sighed, almost wistfully.

"We'd make a swell go," he said. "But I don't think I quite class with you."

"I'd not bet too much on myself," said Curzon. "You're in great condition—hardly breathing."

"Oh! you took most of the scrapping on yourself," said the dancer. "What about that coffee?"

"I think," said Curzon, "that it would do me a lot of good."

"Well, park yourself on a chair," advised Farrell. "In about seven minutes..."

He disappeared into the little kitchenette. Curzon heard the plop of a gas range bursting into flame and the various sounds of activity that meant quick refreshment.

He glanced about the little living room. The photographs on the walls, with their too-ardent expressions of affection, fascinated him. People evidently liked young Farrell.

WELL, why not? He certainly could fight. Why, when he had been on the floor, before Rayne's arrival had deflected the direction of the combat, there had been not the slightest discouragement in Farrell's eyes or voice. And a man who, knocked down, could still be confident... He was pretty much of a man.

A lesser man would have accepted Curzon's challenge after the departure of the thugs.

And if the challenge had been accepted, there could have been no doubt as to the outcome. Curzon had taken more punishment than Farrell and was too weak to have fought longer.

Not that Farrell had evaded battle with Rayne's crew, but the accidents of strife had caused Curzon to suffer more. And Farrell had refused to strike a man obviously not in shape to continue fighting.

"Good lad," was Curzon's mental comment.

And he had reached this point in the way toward readiness of his views toward the dancer when Farrell appeared in the kitchenette doorway bearing a tray on which coffee steamed, and which was piled high with buttered toast.

He placed the tray on the table and poured coffee. In silence each drained a cup; Farrell refilled them, munched a moment on a piece of toast, and looked at Curzon.

Talks to PARENTS

By Alice Judson Peale

Unequal Gifts

A MOTHER who is keenly aware that her two boys are not equally bright wants advice.

The eldest child does his school work easily, accurately, and brings home only excellent reports.

The younger one, although he works much harder over his home work, and although his teachers report that he is conscientious at school, makes only poor grades, which lately have shown a tendency to get worse instead of better.

How can she prevent the elder from becoming cocksure and conceited, and the younger from becoming discouraged and unhappy?

In such a situation the most important element is always the parents' actual attitude toward the children.

We are all too ready to assume that because one child is brighter than another he is, therefore, superior.

There are a great many different kinds of ability, only a few of which can be measured in terms of school success.

One often finds the ability to do things well, to handle concrete situations, to get on with people in merely "average" or even dull children, and these assets are not to be despised.

Many a brilliant intellect, on the other hand, brings its own little success and less happiness because of poor work habits and unstable personality.

The most important thing to remember, when the intellectual gifts of children present glaring differences, is that we must not let it on you," Farrell hastily went on. "You're fast."

"You're tough," admitted Curzon. "And I imagine you have plenty of speed."

The Commander of the Faithful.

"THEY say the lion and the lizard keep the courts where Jamshyd gloried and drank deep." Omar the Tentmaker sang of the faded splendors of the Orient. But no lions or lizards frolic in the gorgeous courts of Hyderabad, except they be the pets of His Exalted Highness, the Nizam ul-Mulk of Hyderabad. For though Haroun al-Raschid no longer prowls the streets of Baghdad seeking romance and adventure, and Scheherazade has long since "ceased to be her permitted say," in the palaces of the Nizam dark-eyed beauties still jingle their golden anklets in cloistered shadows, Moors, Pathans, Persians, Afghans and Rajputs from all parts of the Moslem world are feted at the Nizam's board, and the muezzin greets the dawn from the minaret with his: "Allah is God and only God, and Mahomet is his prophet!"

Into that scene, that bit of life lingering on into the modern world from the world of the Thousand Nights and a Night, two new Princesses are to enter. They too might have stepped from Scheherazade's tale, for they are Princess Dur Ai Shehvar and Niloufer Nalin Sultana, daughter and niece, respectively, of the exiled Caliph Abdul Medjid, commander of the Faithful, nominal spiritual head and successor of the Camel Driver Prophet Mahomet in the entire Moslem world. Today they are the Nizam's sons; Princess Dur Ai Shehvar, the Prince Asam Jah, who will be next Nizam, and Princess Niloufer the younger son, Mouassam Jah.

Even though the double marriage was perhaps but the culmination of a political-religious arrangement, a matter of purely material interests, it is another event such as might have become a legend had it happened a few centuries ago, a legend of romance and adventure and Princesses and Princesses, a tale in which the Nizam's sons heard from travelers of the Caliph's daughter and niece exiled by the treachery of a Vizair to the country of the Infidel, and how the Nizam's sons, with the aid of the genie and Allah, rescued the Princesses and carried them home to the Nizam's palace.

Surely the Nizam's sagacity had a snail at their command; a most powerful one, their father's immense wealth.

AND the Caliph was exiled, if not by a disloyal self-seeking Vizair, at least by republicanism engendered by the seeping into the minds of his followers of the ideas of the Occidental moderns, of the "infidels." So much, indeed, have the True Believers fallen from the ways of the Prophet that the Caliph was never even Sultan, al-though for many generations did the Ottoman rulers hold the joint title, the spiritual and temporal power. So sadly has the Caliph fallen into evil days that even among Moslems are those who question his claim to the Caliphate, and the Caliphate of Mohammed VI, his cousin, was deposed as Sultan and Caliph. Further, there are five other Caliphs who claim spiritual power, although the Caliphate of Abdul Medjid is considered that founded by the Prophet.

The Caliph and his family have been living since the exile in a dingy palace in Nice, France, on the charity of the Faithful and a pension of $1500 a month granted in 1924 by the Nizam. The Caliph left Istanbul so hurriedly that he had not time even to take with him all his clothing. The pension has permitted him to resume on a small scale the life of luxury associated with the traditions of the Caliphate.

The Nizam, however, is far from suffering a decline in his princely, Oriental magnificence. The pension granted the Caliph is to him what the Sunday collection box nickel is to a Christian. For the Nizam, even though he is nominally a vassal to Great Britain, since the State of Hyderabad is in India, is reputed to be the wealthiest man in the world, able to buy out Ford and Rockefeller and Morgan combined. His annual revenues are said to be $20,000,000, and by some, twice that amount. In his domain are the historically famous Golconda diamond mines and the ruins of the great Mogul capital of Golconda, a name synonymous with unlimited wealth.

THE Nizam is by far the chief survivor of the glories and wealth and power that once were India—and Persia and China, and Arabia, and Morocco. In only one thing has the Nizam ul-Mulk departed from the traditions of his great house; he has no harem. He has eunuchs, and jewels, and immense stables, and 2000 palace servants, but only one wife.

The Nizam, who is named Mir Mahbub Ali, has a background that pales those of any royal house of the Western world in romance and adventure and power; even that of Spain. A background that reaches into the past to the days of Genghis Khan, who started with a few thousand nomad warriors, and conquered half the world, in the twelfth century.

His few thousand horsemen, their families moving with them, gathered in strength as he subdued tribe after tribe in Tartary, until, followed by a great horde of Mongols, the Great Khan conquered the Moscovites of Russia, the ancient kingdom of Persia, pushed into Hungary and threatened the gates of Venice, overcame China and established there a dynasty that lasted for centuries. His followers and successors crowded down into India, mixed with the Turkomans who had already established there, and became Moslems.

From that combination of Mongol and Turk sprang in the Fourteenth Century the mighty warrior Timur, known today as Tamerlane, who carried the Mongols further into India as the heirs of Genghis Khan confined their interests to China, and brought about a still greater amalgamation. In 1526 Babar, a descendant of Tamerlane, established the great Mogul Empire, the power of which rivaled any of the nations of Europe. Babar was an Emperor in power and wealth when European Kings were little more than feudal Princes called Kings because they received homage from other Kings.

He founded a college, and drew immense revenue from a state of $2,700 square miles with 12,711,000 population, as well as from the case of a subsidiary territory to the British.

Then Asaf Jah, viceroy of the Deccan, broke with the quarrelsome potentates at Delhi and consolidated the Deccan plateau into a state, the true successor of the Mogul empire. He founded the city of Hyderabad, or Haidarabad, which means "City of Haidar," and was named after Haidar, his favorite wife. His kingdom was formed into the State of Hyderabad, ruled over by the dynasty of which he was the first, and of which Prince Asam Jah is the heir apparent, Nizam ul-Mulk.

When England entered India the ruling Nizam followed a policy of conciliation, and retained most of his power and autonomy. The present Nizam outtranks all native Princes of India; he has unlimited power to punish his subjects, has his own system of coinage, and maintains a large force of troops.

Moslems of all races and nations are sure of a welcome at his court, even though the Nizam has something of a reputation for being bigoted. Perhaps he is; yet his palaces are enormous, constantly filled with a multitude of guests, a picturesque group, for all wear their native costumes; he has a stable of polo ponies that is unsurpassed, the courtyards throng with elephants, camels and horses. He is said to have given the Caliph a total of $1,200,000 in consideration of the marriage of his sons to the two Princesses.

Into such a dazzling atmosphere as the court of Hyderabad will the two Princesses enter in the next few weeks. The marriages look like a triumph for the Caliph's place in the Caliph's palace at Nice today—and there was another departure from Moslem customs. The nuptial party was photographed, although the Koran especially enjoins the faithful against images of any kind.

Shortly the two couples will sail for India and Hyderabad, where traditional rites will complete the ceremony. And with many modern usages replacing the old Oriental attitude toward women, the Princesses will be the center of one of the most brilliant courts in the world, where the Nizam is the patron of the arts, of religion, has founded a college, and draws immense revenue from a state of $2,700 square miles with 12,711,000 population, as well as from the case of a subsidiary territory to the British.

Conquering a Plague

THE award of Government medals and pensions to descendants of those who took part in experiments attending the successful campaign against yellow fever recalls one of the great chapters in modern medical history.

Yellow fever, of little more than historical interest to most persons today, was an ever present threat before the twentieth century.

From 1800 to 1873, with but two exceptions, yellow fever visited the United States every year.

History records a number of virulent outbreaks: of yellow fever in Philadelphia, Orleans, Memphis, and other cities.

Losses in human lives mounted to the thousands and the money losses to hundreds of millions.

In 1890 yellow fever appeared among American soldiers stationed in Havana. The commission appointed by the U. S. Army to study the disease was composed of Walter Reed, James Carroll, Jesse W. Lazear, and Aristides Agramonte.

"Our particular family name," said the first Kangaroo who had evidently decided to be the speaker for the family, "is that of Red Kangaroo."

"Don't be too modest," said another one. "After all we want to be really large and strong."

"Well," said the first Kangaroo speaker, "our name is really that of Great Red Kangaroo. We belong to the family of largest kangaroos on this continent—and we live on this continent I mean the world."

"Do all the kangaroos come from Australia?" Peggy asked.

"All of them," said all the Kangaroos in chorus as they all took great leaps to be closer to John and Peggy.

"We live around the central portions of Australia. But there are many different Kangaroo families. All of us are over five feet in height and very strong."

"We can all move very, very rapidly and when we take our great leaps our long, long tails do not touch the ground, but they're loosely to lean back upon for resting."

"It's too weak neither of you have tails upon which you can lean and rest when you're having a meal."

"And speaking of food—"

They all jumped to another part of the garden and sat with their short legs tucked under their tails as they waited for their tails at the same time.
